570 GO DOWN WITH TORPEDOED FRENCH WARSHIP

AUSTRIANS SCORE ON FRENCH NAVAL FOES

Armored Cruiser Leon Gambetta Sent to Bottom Quickly--Mighty German Fleet in North Sea

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Unofficial announcement is made at Berlin that the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta of 12,400 tons displacement, has been torpedoed by an Austrian submarine. The Berlin news agency which made the announcement, says that part of the crew of 700 men was saved.

A new German attack on a large scale has been inaugurated in Russian Poland, marking the resumption of active hostilities after a long lull The official Berlin statement of today says the Germans conquered Russian positions in the vicinity of Suwalki, near the East Prussian frontier, over a front of twelve miles.

There is a disparity between German and French accounts of what is happening in Flanders. The official Berlin reports says British efforts to recover the lost ground failed. The Paris announcement asserts that further progress was made in the Ypres district. It is said heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans and that more than 600 bodies of their dead were counted at one point.

The French announcement of yesterday that Hartmans-Weilerkopf, the long contested mountain height which the Germans recently captured, had been regained, is denied in Berlin. It is said this position is still held by the Germans and that the French have made no new attacks on it.

Paris, April 28.—(3 p. m.)—A communication from the ministry of marine reciting the torpedoing of the French cruiser Leon Gambetta by an Austrian submarine was given out this afternoon. It is as follows:

"The armored cruiser Leon Gambetta cruising at the entrance of the Otranto canal, was torpedoed on the night of April 26-27 and went to the bottom in ten minutes.

"All the officers on board perished at their posts. One hundred and thirty-six members of the crew, including eleven under-officers, were rescued by vessels sent out promptly to their help by the Italian authorities.

"The list of survivors has not yet been received at the ministry of marine."

RUN ASHORE, ANOTHER REPORT.

Torpedoed Cruiser May Float Away on Next High Tide.

Brindisi, Italy, April 27.—Via Paris April 28.—(2:50 p. m.—The French cruiser Leon Gambetta, torpedoed by an Austrian submarine, in the strait of Otranto, has been run ashore. Fears are now entertained that she will float away on the next high tide.

SIXTY-EIGHT VESSELS.

Big German Fleet Ready for Action in North Sea.

London, April 28.—(2:20 p. m.)—Captain Scott, commanding the Norwegian steamer chartered by the Belgian relief commission, reports the presence in the North sea of a German fleet numbering no less than 68 vessels all told.

Captain Scott, whose vessel had just come to port, reports that while crossing the north sea he was held up by one of these German vessels. After an examination of his papers he was permitted to proceed. The German fleet was composed of vessels of all classes, from battleships to torpedo boats.

The date of Captain Scott's encounter and just where in the North sea he sighted this German fleet has not been announced.

Again Breathes Easier.

England is breathing freely again today in the general belief that the German offensive near Ypres has been stopped, and the country is finding time to turn its attention to the Dardanelles, where an allied army has landed on both shores of the straits.

Paris reports that the French section landed on the Asiatic shore and is making steady progress despite the stubborn resistance of the Turkish defenders. These forces are entrenched and supported by artillery, and it is expected that they will prove a serious obstacle to an advance by land against the forts. The British section has successfully made a base on the shore of the European side of the straits. Turkey admits that these landings have been made, but at the same time she declares that the allies have been unable to make any progress toward the interior.

The latest French official announcement declares that the allies are making continued progress between Ypres and Dixmude, where the capture of prisoners, machine guns and war supplies is claimed. Following the reported failure of the German attack at Les Eparges, the French have apparently resumed the offensive in that region.

The most significant happenings in the diplomatic situation is the recall to Rome of the Italian ambassadors in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna for a conference with the ministers of foreign affairs. The Austrian negotiations are said to have made progress in Rome and Austria is credited with making new concessions to Italy.

Italian observers are beginning to express the opinion that the points still unsettled between Italy and Austria do not make it impossible to reach an agreement.

TURKS REPULSE ALLIES.

French and British Statements Misleading, Says Berlin.

Berlin, April 28.—(By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—Included in the news given out today by the Overseas News agency is the following:

"Turkish troops have repulsed four landing detachments of the allies on the Gallipoli peninsula. Mohammedan French troops landing with the French division deserted to the Turks.

"Yesterday's official French and British communications again furnished interesting proofs of the means whereby the public in the countries of our enemies is being misled," says the German official statement today.

"The French assert they have re-captured Hartmans-Weilerkopf, which we took away from them on the 25th of April. In reality no attacks were made at all since the unsuccessful attempts to re-capture the summit on the afternoon of April 26. Therefore the summit is still in our possession.

"The British report says that the French, advancing on the left wing of the British, have captured the village of Het-Sas in Flanders. In reality, neither was this village attacked yesterday. Furthermore the British report states that the German report regarding the capture of four British guns is not correct.

"It is a pity for the British army administration that it is so badly informed by its subordinates, although it is easily understood that the regular transmission of reports may be somewhat disorganized by the speed with which the British troops left the battlefield on the 25th. According to the inscription they bear, the captured guns belong to the Second London garrison artillery and Second London territorial division. They are the 12.8 centimer guns which will make their presence on our side clearly known to our opponents in the near future."

SHRIEKS OUT A CONFESSION

"Stop! I Am Guilty!" Cries Accused Man in Brooklyn Court.

TRIAL HALTED BY DRAMATIC SCENE

White Snatches Fraternal Button from Coat Lapel as He Admits Guilt.

New York, April 28.—Philip L. White, the $6,000 a year manager of the Masury Paint company in Brooklyn, on trial as the leader of a band of highwaymen who held up his employers bank messengers and robbed them of $3,000 nearly a year ago, rose from his chair in the courtroom today, stretched both arms toward Supreme Court Justice Aspinall on the bench and exclaimed:

"Stop. I am guilty. I want to confess my guilt before God and the world!"

A courtroom scene seldom equalled in the annals of New York jurisprudence ensued.

White, trembling with emotion turned from the bench and faced the jury.

Tears Off Shrine Button.

"I am guilty," he repeated. "It is a bitter truth that is forced to my lips, but it is the Lord's will. I have lived two lives, a decent one and that of a highwayman. I hope that God will forgive me and that I may live long enough to make restitution."

He reached up to his coat lapel and fumbled with a gold button in the buttonhole, insignia of his membership in a fraternal order known all over the country.

"And I surrender by membership in the Mystic Shrine," he continued tearing the button loose. "I am no longer worthy to remain a Shriner."

Freely Confesses Details.

White continued his impassioned avowal. He freely confessed the details of the crime, but asked no clemency, made no statement as to the motive which impelled him.

When he sat down beside his longtime friend, James F. Clinnin, auditor for the Hackett & Wilhelms company in Brooklyn, who also was on trial on the same charge, Clinnin arose: "I wish to plead guilty too," he said and sat down.

The trial, which has been in progress in the supreme court in Brooklyn for several days, was at once halted. The jury was dismissed and the court accepted the two pleas of guilty. Sentence was postponed a week.

Devised the Scheme.

Clinnin and White were charged with having devised the scheme under which two messengers of the Masury company were robbed of $3,000 in the hallway of the building occupied by the firm.

The actual robbery was committed by two highwaymen, acting under White's orders. The four afterwards divided the money, White getting $900. This was testified to yesterday by Robert S. Roberts, the man who actually took the money from the messengers' hands.

White lived in a handsome residence at Elizabeth, N. J. When he was first arrested after months of investigating by detectives, his employers were astounded, refused to believe him guilty and assisted him to obtain bail.

Horace E. Smitley Sustains Serious Injuries When Horse Kicks Him.

Horace E. Smitley, a farmer living 12 miles west of the city near Aboite, sustained a fracture of the base of the skull and injuries to his neck Tuesday afternoon at the Sprinkle farm, when a horse kicked him in the head. He was picked up unconscious and taken into the house. An auto ambulance from Fort Wayne was called and he was rushed to the Lutheran hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Rosenthal and Dr. Titus.

Although his condition is regarded as serious, it is thought that he will recover as the attending doctors state that his chances are good unless something unforeseen arises. He was resting easily Wednesday.

Mr. Smitley, who is nearly 55 years of age, was working at his neighbor's farm Tuesday. While watering his own horse one of Mr. Sprinkle's horses kicked at the other animal, but struck Mr. Smitley on the side of the head. He was knocked down and in the excitement his own horse stepped on his neck. Friends who were standing near by saved him from further injuries.

DEMOCRATS GATHER FOR A LOVE FEAST

Redfield, who will make the principal address, was to arrive this afternoon. A reception at the Indiana Democratic club was to follow his arrival.

Secretary Redfield was asked to make the speech in an effort to offset the attacks being made on the Wilson administration from business and industrial standpoints. His speech, it is said, will have a national significance and is said to have met the approval of President Wilson, to whom it has been submitted.

State Chairman Bernard Korbly said the meeting here would be followed by democratic love feasts in every congressional district in the state.

Samuel M. Foster, of Fort Wayne, will preside at the meeting and will introduce Mr. Redfield.

DOESN'T EXPECT A WINTER CAMPAIGN

Montreal, April 28.—General Sir John Smith-Dorrien, commander of the British second army in France, does not think there will be another winter campaign. He made this statement in a speech delivered to officers of the Canadian contingent just before that force was moved from Neuve Chapelle to Ypres, an extract of which has just been received. General Smith-Dorrien said:

"No one can say definitely when the war will end. As you know, we are optimistic out here and rightfully so. I do not say the war will end in one month or two months, but I think I can promise you that there will not be another winter campaign."

PLATT RULED LEGISLATURE

That's Why Col. Roosevelt Says He Consulted the New York Boss.

CROSS-EXAMINATION IN LIBEL CASE ENDS

Becomes So Vehement Opposing Counsel Objects to Gesticulations.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 22.—Theodore Roosevelt today told as a witness in the $50,000 libel suit brought against him by William Barnes why, when governor of New York and president of the United States he conferred with former U. S. Senator Thomas C. Platt—"the boss."

While he was governor of New York, the colonel declared, he discussed things with Senator Platt because he had found out that the legislature obeyed his orders. The witness thought it best when there was any likelihood of the law-making body of the state disagreeing with him to first go to headquarters and talk things over.

Further as governor the colonel said he did not want to run any chance of disrupting the Republican party. As president of the United States the colonel readily admitted he conferred constantly with the senator from New York on all manner of things. He said he valued the senator's advice and wanted to take advantage of his wide experience.

These statements were made in reply to questions asked during the early part of his redirect examination, his cross-examination by counsel for William Barnes having been concluded today.

The colonel was most active on the witness stand. He slapped his hands upon his thighs and moved his arms and head to give emphasis to his words. He raised his voice and pounded upon the arm of the witness chair until counsel for Mr. Barnes entered an objection with the court against what they termed his "gesticulations."

Before court opened attorneys for both Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Barnes went to the chambers of Justice Andrews for a consultation. It was said that this had to do with the admission of certain evidence. Because of this conference the proceedings were a little late in starting.

When Justice Andrews ascended the bench he re-warned the jury against reading the newspapers. Mr. Ivins then asked the colonel whether he remembered making a speech at Hudson Falls in 1913.

"Where is Hudson Falls?" asked the colonel.

Mr. Ivins replied: "I have never been governor and consequently I have never been all over the state."

The speech at Hudson Falls was read. In it Col. Roosevelt was reported as saying that Mr. Barnes was a "menace to the state of New York," and that if he was a menace before election he was "a menace yet."

John M. Bowers, Col. Roosevelt's chief counsel, objected. Mr. Ivins explained to the court that the colonel's old speeches were not being introduced with an idea of compounding the alleged libel but with the idea of showing the colonel's state of mind. The objection was overruled.

In another speech Col. Roosevelt was quoted as saying, and he said he was [illegible] quoted that "Mr. B. and M." should be in the same party. The plaintiff [illegible]

GIGANTIC COMBATS OVER WIDE RANGE

Fighting is Furious in Flanders, in the Carpathians and at the Dardanelles

London, April 28.—Military operations of critical importance are now under way simultaneously in three distinct fields of action.

In Flanders the Germans are once more engeged with the British, Belgians and French in a struggle for mastery of the territory near the Yser canal, where several months ago there occurred what was perhaps the most terrible struggle of the war so far.

In the Carpathians, the Russians are again assuming the offensive in another of their repeater efforts to push over the mountain barrier into Hungary.

At the Dardanelles the allies have succeeded in landing troops on both sides of the straits inaugurating the combined land and sea attempt at the conquest of Constantinople.

A British correspondent in northern France telegraphs that the German effort to turn the left British flank near Ypres has failed and that the Germans have been checked definitely, although the battle still continues with violence. French military authorities are cautious of accepting the theory that the plan of the Germans is to break through to the English channel, but they regard it as patent that such a huge concentration of troops on a limited front means that the present drive is preparatory of some more important undertaking.

An official Belgian statement indicates that the German attack is lessening in force. It is said the artillery fire against the Belgian front has largely died away.

Russian and Austrian official statements indicate that fighting in the Carpathians is becoming more intense. Each side claims to have defeated the attack of the other, but it is apparent that gradually the activity is spreading along greater sections of the battle line. Military observers at Petrograd say that more decisive operations than have occurred hitherto are expected shortly.

The situation at the Dardanelles remains obscure, although it is apparent that the French and British have made some headway with their landing operations. The Paris war office has announced the capture of Kum Kalen, on the Asiatic side. The Turkish government, although reporting the repulse of the landing forces in some cases, does not claim that in every instance the Turks have been able to drive them back.

Italy is still debating the question whether she shall intervene in the war. The Italian ambassador in France, one of those summoned home to consult with the government, has had a long conference with the king concerning international affairs.

DUVAL WEST NOW ON HIS WAY HOMEWARD

Wilson's Personal Representative to Report on Mexico.

Washington, April 28.—Duval West, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, was on his way today to the United States, according to advices to the state department. He left Mexico City yesterday for Vera Cruz aboard a special train provided by the Villa-Zapata leaders and Gen. Carranza. Mr. West will report to government officials here on the results of his conference with the rival leaders in Mexico. The appreciation of the United States government for the efficient manner in which Cardozo de Olivera, Brazilian minister at Mexico City, has for the past year looked after American diplomatic interests in Mexico has been conveyed in messages sent to him by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. The minister took charge of the American embassy following the severance of relations between the United States and the Huerta government. Both the president and Secretary Bryan declared that although the period during which the minister has represented the United States has been a trying one, he had more than met every requirement.

WORST IS NOW OVER.

Houston, Tex., April 28.—Central and south Texas flood conditions improved steadily last night and today, strengthening the belief that the worst is over, although all trans-state streams are out of banks at many points and damage is continuing. No rain, however, has fallen along the lower reaches of the rivers in more than 48 hours and the waters are receding slowly.

USE TUNNEL TO HALL OF GIRLS IS CHARGE

Earlham College Lads in Storm Center of an Investigation.

Richmond, Ind., April 28.—A sequel to the charges of lax discipline and favoritism shown athletes at Earlham college, made by Prof. Elbert Russell, following the act of the trustees recently in accepting his resignation, is the investigation now being made by the faculty of the Quaker institution of charges that certain men students have been making use of a tunnel connecting the men's and women's dormitories to spirit coeds into the campus after hours prescribed for the young women to receive callers.

"There is a tunnel connecting the two dormitories," Secretary Edgar Fisher said, "but I do not believe it has been made use of. If any young men have gained entrance to the girls' dormitory they must have used a skeleton key to open the kitchen door."

Four of the school's most prominent athletes, without whom base ball, foot ball and basket ball teams would be seriously handicapped, are involved. Their names have not been made public.

It was said that on the night of March 12 authorities caught these young men, all of whom are employed in the dining room at Earlham hall, having clandestine engagements with girls.

The conduit, which carries water heat pipes and electric wires from Bundy hall, the boys' dormitory to Earlham hall, is sufficiently large to admit a man, allowing him to walk through the passage. At Bundy hall it enters a part of the basement which is unoccupied. The entrance to the tunnel is close to a basement door opening on to campus at the rear of the building. At Earlham hall the passage has its opening near the kitchen.

Students and friends of the young men implicated say they had keys to the tunnel, which permitted them to pass from the boys' dormitory to the girls' building. It is also said that women students have recently passed through this tunnel, through the basement of Bundy hall to the campus at forbidden times.

Information obtained at the college indicates that persons who have charge of the girls' dormitory often were puzzled by the disappearance of coeds from their rooms and by subsequent inability to locate them in the building.

AVERAGE MINISTER'S SALARY A SMALL ONE

Chicago, April 28.—Ministers in the Congregational churches of the Northern states receive as an average a nannial salary of less than $800, Rev. Francis L. Hayes, western secretary of the annuity fund for congregational ministers, asserted today before the national convention of the board of conference claimant of the Methodist Episcopal church. The convention is being held in the interests of a $10,000,000 fund for retired ministers.

Rev. Mr. Hayes said that less than two per cent. of the congregational churches pay ministers an annual salary of $3,000 and upwards; more than half not over $1,000, and one quarter not more than $500.

"The underlying reason why every member of the Grand Army of the Republic receives a pension with the general approval of the people is the nation's sense of obligation. It is time that the church's sense of obligation should rise to the same level," the speaker said.

MEMORY BACK AFTER TWO YEARS' LAPSE

Kenosha, Wis., April 28.—For two years Frank Van Wie, 27 years old, wandered around the country "without a memory."

Last night a physician snapped back into place two small vertebrae in the back of his neck. In an hour his past history, with the exception of the two years' lapse, came back to him.

He remembered that on May 7, 1913, he fell from a roof of a building at 1071 Twelfth street, Milwaukee, and 'hurt his head." What had happened in his life since that time became a blank.

"I remember that when I was hurt the doctors said I had broken a rib or two," Van Wie said. "My head hurt and then I seemed to go to sleep. I can't believe that two years have passed."

Van Wie had been in Kenosha since last Friday. He declared he was seeking to discover his identity and went by the name of "John Kennedy." He went to Milwaukee last night and said he intended seeking the girl to whom he was to have been married.

Laughs Way from Convent to Stage

RUTH DONNELLY.

When Ruth Donnelly was a mere slip of a dimple-cheeked girl, back in Sacred Heart convent in New Jersey, she couldn't make her smile behave. In the midst of the most solemn service she would startle the quiet black garbed sisters with a peal of silvery laughter, and despite the resultant punishment, she would repeat the offense again and again. Finally the good sisters gave her up as a bad job and returned her to her uncle, Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, N. J.

Little Ruth continued to laugh her way merrily through the world, while her elders shook their heads and wondered what they would eventually do with her.

Miss Rose Stahl, the star of "A Perfect Lady," solved the problem. After a year in the chorus [illegible]

FURNITURE PROVES TO BE BOOZE STOCK

Charleston, W. Va., April 28.—State authorities today renewed their vigilance in enforcing the West Virginia prohibition laws following the discovery and confiscation of the contents of a car supposed to have been loaded with furniture, but in reality containing intoxicating liquors, here yesterday.

A piano box, trunks, boxes and barrels, from which protruded bits of bed clothing, were found by the authorities to be filled with bottles of liquor. Gene Drennen, a local restaurant keeper, at whose home a wagon load of liquor was alleged to have been found, and Mrs. Maud Hull and Mrs. Mac Duncan, relatives of Drennen, were arrested and held under bond. The car, it was said, was sent here from Cincinnati.

The prohibition officers also confiscated a consignment of hardware which was found to be whisky.

NEW YORK MUST TONE DOWN THE CABARETS

New York, April 28.—Elaborate cabarets given in many of the most expensive restaurants here music be modified under a new ruling of the commissioner of licenses. His decision was given on a complaint by theatrical managers who objected to paying $500 for a license while the restaurant men giving cabarets paid only $50.

The commissioner summoned to his office yesterday proprietors of twenty of the leading restaurants and informed them that shows with scenery would be permitted in buildings only designated especially for theatrical performances. The restaurant proprietors replied that they had been forced by competition to give costly cabarets and hinted they would welcome an enforcement of the law that would compel a return to simpler and less expensive entertainments.

HAS MYSTERIOUS LETTER.

Five Dollars Belongs to Some Woman Who Can Prove Fact.

Columbus, Ind., April 27.—Irvin A. Cox, postmaster of this city, has a mysterious letter signed "Unknown," and mailed in Indianapolis, which contained $5 to be given to some woman who can prove that it belongs to her. The letter says a Columbus woman lost her purse about Christmas, 1912, and the inference is that the writer found it. The writer wants the $5 given to the woman who lost the purse.

Instead of throwing her kitchen refuse into a dustbin the poor Constantinople housewife puts it into a sort of kennel outside her door for the wandering dogs of the city.

TEETH EXTRACTED: NOW NEAR DEATH

Chicago, April 28.—Charles F. Grant, 35 years old and cashier at the Highland Park State bank, is in a serious condition at the Augustana hospital as the result of loss of blood after the extraction of twelve teeth Monday.

The bleeding kept Mr. Grant awake all of Monday night and the family physician summoned yesterday was unable to stop the loss of blood. Fearing that his patient might bleed to death, the physician, Dr. Lloyd M. Bergen, sent Mr. Grant to the hospital in Chicago.

Dr. N. M. Percy took the case in hand and at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon—twenty-four hours after it began—succeeded in stopping the loss of blood.

"This is the result of a phenomenon known to medical science as haemophilia—a rather rare case," said Dr. Percy. "We find these 'bleeders' as we call them, about one in 10,000 cases."

Don't kill yourself with Drugs!

This is the story that women folks as well as men folks are telling each other. "TU-BO-LAX" is especially beneficial and desirable for the gentler sex. Their delicate organism is such that cathartics and strong purgatives cause irritation, bearing down pains and general debility. TU-BO-LAX seems to invigorate all the vital organs. It cleanses the lower bowel thoroughly and pleasantly. It seems to invite all the undigested food in the stomach down through the intestines without any discomfort. By its beneficial effect—the lazy liver is awakened to new activity, so that biliousness, Jaunders and sallow complexions are no longer a terror to women who use TU-BO-LAX.

Probably more than 1,000 homes in Philadelphia today have discarded purgatives of all sorts and depend upon TU-BO-LAX. They have discovered that taking medicine in the mouth to pass down through the stomach and intestines to remove a little obstruction in the lower bowel is as antiquated as the "Tallow dip."

TU-BO-LAX is a laxative ointment that dissolves the hardened substances in 2 MINUTES and gives a thorough evacuation of the lower bowel. By removing the refuse and poison from the system, the blood becomes enriched—digestion is stimulated, the liver is made active—and the whole body becomes—stronger.

Remember, you can carry TU-BO-LAX around in your pocket, and can get the relief desired at any time.

Your druggist can furnish you the TU-BO-LAX, or we will send you a package by mail upon receipt of 25 cents.

Large size (contains 5 times amount of 25 cent size) 50 cents.

On Sale at All Drug Stores.

With a companion named Earl Plummer, the Gossard child was playing on a pile of lumber near the wall. She lost her balance and to save herself from falling grasped at the foundation of te building. In doing so she dislodged a huge block of stone weighing about 500 pounds that had been freshly placed and had not become firmly set in the mortar, and fell under the boulder. The labor of several men was necessary for a quarter of an hour to remove the heavy stone from the crushed body of the child, whose death had been almost instantaneous. Her neck was broken and her chest was badly crushed.

CATTLE DIE MYSTERIOUSLY.

Van Wert, O., April 28.—Chemical analysis will be resorted to determine what caused the death of three valuable blooded cattle belonging to Charles Reason, of this city. Reason keeps his cattle on a lot adjoining his home. He found three of them very sick when he went to care for them in the morning and called a veterinary surgeon. The animals died soon afterwards. Veterinarians gave it as their opinion that the cattle had died of spoiled forage, but an examination of one of them showed little food in the stomach and it now is believed that all of them were poisoned. One of them was a full-blooded Jersey cow, another a full-blooded Holstein and the other was a blooded Jersey bull.

MENTONE HOME DAMAGED.

Warsaw, Ind., April 28.—The home of George Ralston, at Mentone, was almost destroyed Tuesday by fire, discovered to be burning in the upper story. At the time Mrs. Ralston was alone at her home and while engaged in her household duties, her attention was attracted by the smell of smoke. The fire is believed to have been started from a spark from the chimney, some time early in the morning, and burned slowly until fanned by a strong west wind, burst into flames. The loss will probably total $1,000, with insurance to cover it.

Eighteen months ago Mr. Norris sold eight hogs, ten months old, that averaged 410 pounds each and last winter twelve nine months pigs that averaged 350 each. "Buy the Goods— Not the Package"

Advises Hon. Geo. W. Perkins, Chairman of New York's Food Committee.

And it's good advice! Select the food that contains the greatest nutrition for the least money, whether in ornately colored package or in a plain carton.

The Grape-Nuts package isn't pretty—no money is wasted upon ornament—but it's air-tight and germ-proof, to protect the food and keep it in perfect condition.

Grape-Nuts FOOD

made of selected wheat and malted barley, is delicious, concentrated, easily digested, and contains, pound for pound, more nutrition than beef—and costs less.

Grape-Nuts food has a delicious, nut-like flavour that is relished by old and young. It contains no sugar added, but its delicate sweetness is due to natural conversion of the starch of the grain into grape sugar by long, skilful baking.

It comes all ready to eat with cream or good milk and it's mighty good!

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverb 15:1-16.

1 A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger.
2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.
3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.
4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit.
5 A fool despiseth his father's instruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.
6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.
8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.
10 Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof shall die.
11 Hell and destruction are before the Lord: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?
12 A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise.
13 A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken.
14 The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishness.
15 All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast.
16 Better is little with the fear of the Lord than great treasure and trouble therewith.

Tax Paying and Its Returns

Within a few days the semi-annual time limit for the payment of taxes without the penalty that attaches to overdue accounts of this character will have expired. The final week is bringing its customary rush to the office of County Treasurer Bueter, and again, as always the average tax-payer makes his surrender with none too good grace and with complaint but ill concealed. Taxes have long ago come to be considered a necessary evil. One pays them grudgingly, half under an impression that he receives no returns and that the assessment is an unfair tribute levied upon citizenship.

This view is, of course, wholly erroneous and unjustified, and is given utterance without an analysis of the situation. There are manifest returns from tax-paying in law and order, in protection, in the maintenance of social existence, in the enjoymet of improved streets and highways, and as a matter of fact it is difficult to see how the man who manages to escape tax payments altogether is able to keep his conscience in an attitude at all complacent. Good citizenship requires a share in the common burdens as well as the enjoyment of benefits that are the fruit of common co-operation. Taxes have never been popular, and, perhaps, never will become so until we have reduced both the levying and the expenditure of public monies to a more exact and equitable science.

The tax problem is one which is engaging the thoughtful attention of many men today, both in Indiana and elsewhere. It has been made the subject of some rather notable recent conferences in the hope of arriving at a fairer basis of assessment and a more equitable sharing of the burdens. Some progress is undoubtedly being made in the study and there is the promise of reform finally that will not only provide a fairer distribution of the load but a greater return for public expenditures. We think there is plainly evident today an improvement in the latter direction. Public expenditures are, as a rule, now made more wisely, more economically and they bring greater returns than ever before. It is not to be contended that all waste has been eliminated or that perfection has been reached, but distinct progress has been made. Continued effort along this line will do much toward making the tax burdens seem lighter because of the realization in increased returns from the money we pay into the public treasury. Perhaps, indeed, some future generation will come to see the day when tax-paying will be regarded not as an onerous duty, but a civic privilege.

The proposed ordinance designed to relieve Calhoun street traffic congestion by prohibiting the traversing of the main thoroughfare by heavy trucks, is one which should be cheerfully accepted and fully complied with. Provision is made for the necessity of unloading, in which case the street may be entered at the nearest cross-street or alley. Under all other cases another street can quite as well be used by the heavy, slow-moving vehicles. It will not only expedite the movement of the trucks, but lessen the danger to accident and remove much of the congestion that is at times trying to the public, both afoot and awheel. Paved parallel streets but a square distant on either side have removed the former necessity for the use of Calhoun street as a thoroughfare for the heavy trucks.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, at 79 years old, has redeemed his promise to dance in the New York building at the San Francisco fair, though as a condescension to a bruised knee he substituted a waltz for the Virginia reel originally nominated in the bond. We presume his performance will have to be accepted in full settlement, but a glimpse of the venerable Illinois statesman doing the fox trot would have been worth a whole lot more money from the spectacular point of view.

New Haven boys have organized to systematically clean the rubbish, glass, nails and other debris from the streets of that pretty little town and declare they will continue the work steadily through the summer season. A lively crowd of energetic youngsters, intelligently directed, should be able to give almost any municipality a valuable demonstration in the practical civics of cleanliness and attractiveness. The New Haven idea has all the earmarks of a splendid thing.

Leading American railroads, including the Pennsylvania, with its $28,000,000 order, are preparing to expend at least $50,000,000 in equipment and road betterments during the next few months. Preparations for an outgo of fifty millions indicate that the railroads are fully sharing the confidence of other lines of business that the turning point has arrived and that we are now really on the upgrade.

A SIGN OF SPRING YOU'VE MISSED.

The sun is shining on the front porch. The music of children's voices carries far through the clear air. It must be spring.

In the street little girls are jumping the rope, playing with rubber ball and jacks.

A tiny tot appears on the porch lugging the things dearest to her heart—her doll, its carriage, her dishes, her little chairs.

"Yoo-hoo—Lucy, ast your mamma tin you tum over. We'll play house."

It is spring!

There's no more unmistakable sign of winter's flight than the "make-believe" parties the little women are giving wherever the sun has warmed a porch corner—though on some back stairs or fire escape you're likely to find the happiest "party" of all, with some shabby little "mother" and her bedraggled little doll-family "making-believe" she's a "grand lady," grown up and "keeping house."

They'll tell you—those droll little women with their quaint, wise airs, their long skirts and turned up pigtails, this game of "let's pretend we are grown up and keeping house" is the "mostest fun" of all their games.

And unless your heart is very old, indeed, you'll agree with the little sisters of "let's pretend" that making believe you're grown up is much more fun than being really grown up, when making believe about things is one of the penalties life inflicts on you; when pretending is a hateful business and no longer a childish game.

THE DISHONEST EMPLOYE.

(Indianapolis News.)

Times without number the newspapers contain stories of the clerk-embezzler. In the latest instance, the employe concerned was not a clerk, but an $18-a-week salesman employed by a large wholesale grocery house in New York city. It is alleged that this salesman, co-operating with restaurant proprietors, defrauded his employers out of supplies to the value of $350,000. The accused man, according to the police, maintained a handsome residence and took a leading part in the social affairs of his home city.

There is a growing inclination on the part of employers to place their employes under closer scrutiny. With the employment of manual labor, this surveillance has most often taken the form of disapproval of drunkenness. It is comparatively easy for a large corporation, employing hundreds of workmen, to let workmen understand that temperate habits are for the benefit of all concerned. Some companies have gone so far as to prohibit their men from visiting saloons, at least, during the working hours. Others merely let the men know of the official disapproval of the saloon. In the matter of promotion and of salary increases, the temperate men are the ones favored. This practice is viewed by some people as an unwarranted intrusion on "personal liberty." But there is reason in it.

When the employer, however, attempts to deal with men in clerical or professional capacities he has a much more difficult problem. A banker may hesitate to pry into the habits of a teller, yet it has often been demonstrated that had such surveillance been undertaken peculations might have been averted. The wholesale grocery firm which is believed to have been robbed of $350,000 worth of goods, possibly never thought to acquaint itself with the salesman's manner of living. When a $15 or $20-a-week clerk cuts a fine swath in society, owns a motor car, maintains an establishment and mingles conspicuously in society, it is reasonable to suppose that he must have other resources than his salary. If social surveillance is "unethical," business surveillance is entirely possible. A lax system of auditing possibly got this New York firm into trouble.

MUSIC AND MUSCLE.

(Dayton News.)

"The band shall play while coaling ship," says an order recently issued by the United States navy. The music has nothing to do with the coal, and it would seem to be an unusual time to have music—when the dirtiest, most toilsome work is being done. But that is the order. And it was issued for a purpose.

It has been found that the men are more cheerful when there is music in the air—and the more cheerful the man the better he can work, and the more willingly. So while the men are performing this miserable work they will hear the strains of the music, and to a certain extent forget the weariness of the task.

We are all familiar with the effect of music in battle. When men were led into charges, when they met the enemy face to face and fought it out in hand-to-hand fashion, music was deemed essential. But music isn't playing much part in the present struggle, for obvious reasons. It wouldn't add anything to the inspiration of the scene, now that men are fighting from trenches and hurling death at unseen enemies. But it is still of use in the navy.

Taking the hint from the recent order in the navy, a writer in the Manufacturers' Record advocates music in factories. He does not claim that the band should play all the time, while the men are working at all tasks, but he does believe that if there were more music about the factories of this country it would be all the better—that the men would be kept in better humor, and therefore in better form for the tasks at hand.

UPHOLDS BAREFOOT BOY.

Indianapolis School Board Reproves Blow at His Rights.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28.—The board of school commissioners at a meeting last night championed the cause of the barefoot boy when letters were read in which requests were made that the board establish a rule compelling all children to wear shoes and stockings to school. Every member of the board denounced the suggestion. One of the commissioners said that to enforce such a rule would be "to place the small boy in torment" and would deprive the school boy of "one of the inherent rights of childhood."

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Adv.

How Thin People Can Get Fat

Increase in Weight Ten Pounds or More

A Physician's Advice

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Meyer Bros. Co., Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

WATKINS' REPORT TAKEN UP FIRST

Army Board Busy at Work on Survey for Proposed Barge Canal.

Members of the board of army engineers will first review the report of Captain L. H. Watkins on the survey for the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal, before taking up the commercial report prepared by Major P. S. Bond.

The deliberations of the board, which is composed of Colonel John Millis, Colonel W. V. Judson and Major P. S. Bond, are behind closed doors and the greatest precautions are being taken to prevent any information concerning the work from leaking out. Wednesday was devoted, however, to the reading of Captain Watkins' report, consisting of several typewritten pages, together with a number of maps and charts. The sessions of the board are being held in the army engineer's office on the third floor of the Federal building.

Perry A. Randall, president of the Erie and Michigan Deep Waterway association, and Charles S. Bash, one of the enthusiastic boosters, have arranged a meeting with the board late Wednesday afternoon. Messrs. Randall and Bash will present facts and figures to the board showing why the canal should be built. It is probable that other delegations will be received by the board.

Next in importance to the action of the board in accepting or rejecting the reports is the route to be selected out of Fort Wayne to Chicago. Two routes have been surveyed, southern and northern, both of which are said to be feasible.

AT THE NEW PALACE

A GINGERY BILL.

New Palace's Farewell Keith Program a Lively One.

Action, go, snap and ginger predominate in the farewell Keith vaudeville bill of the 1914-1915 season at the New Palace theater this week. There isn't a slow poky act in the lot and every one of them keeps one fairly on the tiptoe of expectancy all the time. Morris Cronin's Merry Men in their deft juggling surprise keep one shunting from uproarious laughter to gasping marvel at the dexterity with which the heavy Indian clubs are whirled from one set of jugglers to another. This act does not recall any other attraction that ever appeared in Fort Wayne because it isn't like anything else under the sun. The story of "His Wife's Mother" in which Emmet Devoy and Miss Mabel Durand and supporting company are appearing in a riot of fun, with Mr. Devoy as the bachelor friend of a young couple endeavoring to calm out a marital storm by convincing the young groom that his mother-in-law is altogether the most charming woman in the world. With the enthusiastic "hi yi" of the old time minstrels as the basis for their offering, Coakley, Hanvey and Dunley, a trio of black face fun makers, evoke a whirlwind of applause and laughter at their bright sallies and amusing stories. In a kaleidoscopic satire called "Evolution-186-to-1920," Florence Kolb and Adelaide Harland present a series of dances and some bright chatter. Especially good is their braod travesty on the modern militant suffragette and her hen pecked lesser half.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Potash and Perlmutter" Coming Back Saturday.

"Potash and Perlmutter, the most famous cloak and suit laugh makers in the world, have their quarters in the Cohan theatre, New York city, after two remarkable seasons and are making a tour of the country to display their goods to millions of patrons who could not get to New York to see them. They will appear at the Majestic on Saturday matinee and night.

A. H. Woods, who put the boys into business, is sending along with them not only all their original designs but in fact their entire staff, including designers, models, cutters, pressers, salesmen, lawyer and even their friends and family. Their tour so far has been a triumphant one for Abe and Morris are known everywhere by reputation as fine fellows, as lovable as they are laughable—keen business men, but with hearts of gold.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

BLANCHE SWEET IN "TE CAPTIE."

Blanche Sweet in "The Captive" a photo dramatization of the play of the same name, written by Cecil De Mille and Jeanie McPherson, is a love drama of unusual quality, the incidents of which all take place during the recent war between Turkey and Montenego. It is the story of an averson that turns into love, the narrative of a romance that begins with hate, seeming to justify the assertion that anything is better that indifference.

The two principal characters in "The Cpative" are a Montenegran peasant girl and a Turkish noble, who is made a prisoner of war and assigned to do work on her farm and who in the end saves from the drunken onslaughts of his own countrymen.

The great actor-author, Edwin Arden, will appear at the Jefferson tomorrow in a superb picturization of his own play, 'Eagles Nest."

AT THE MINUET.

A GREAT BIBLICAL DRAMA.

"Esther," Which Plays at the Minuet Today, Founded Upon Story Taken From Old Testament.

The Biblical drama has been rather neglected by the motion picture producers lately, and the market has been so surfeited with society dramas, 'problem" plays and others of the ilk and kind that the production of a drama like "Esther" is indeed a welcome occurence. The locale of the play is laid in ancient Biblical times, as a period when King Asheurus ruled all the territory extending from India to Ethiopia. Amis, the rich, luxurious settings of the king's court is set the plot of this enthralling drama, which tells of the deliverance of the Jewish race from oppression in the countries of King Asheurus. The love interest in the play is an unusaul one, and well sustained throughout.

AT THE COLONIAL

Thomas Jefferson Starring at Colonial.

Several elements tend toward the success of this brilliant screen production, "The Shadows of a Great City." The first is the remarkable acting of Thomas Jefferson in the principal role of the play, and the second is the tremendous strength and powerful appeal of the story itself.

Mr. Thomas Jefferson, who stars in "The Shadows of a Great City," is acknowledged to be one of the foremost most actors of the American stages, and this—his initial advent into the photo-dramatic field, has aroused unprecedented interest among playgoers all over the country.

Anna Howard Shaw, the renowned champion of woman suffrage in America, appears at the Colonial on the morrow in the marvelous suffrage play, "Your Girl and Mine."

part had been shortened and incorrectly reported.

Just What He Said.

"I never said Mr. B. and Mr. M.," said the colonel. "I said Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy."

"Col. Roosevelt you have testified to many conferences with Senator Platt and suggestions received from him."

"Yes," said Col. Roosevelt. "I found his wide knowledge of much value to me. I consulted Mr. Platt on all important matters that came up through my entire administration. My purpose was partly to take advantage of his experience and partly to see if I could not come to an agreement with him as head of the republican party so as to prevent a break with the organization. I did not want to disrupt the republican party. I knew I could get good affirmative and right things done in Albany if I didn't break with the party. I knew I could prevent wrong.

"As for the nomination," the colonel went on, "I saw Senator Platt after I had been informed he had decided to have me nominated for governor."

Mr. Bowers then read the letter in which Senator Platt wrote, "I have heard you were little loose in regard to the relations between capital and labor," and that "your candidacy has become a practical certainty."

"I believe," said Col. Roosevelt, "Mr. Platt's statement in that letter was correct."

"Before you were elected did you make any promises to or about any business?"

"I certainly did not."

Not an Easy Boss.

In one of the telegrams read yesterday, when Senator Platt insisted that Col. Roosevelt, then governor, attend the meeting of a commission, the colonel, after protesting, agreed to do so, and added: "But you are not an easy boss."

Hostilities broke out between the opposing lawyers several times. On each occasion Justice William Andrews, presiding, smoothed them down. Col. Roosevelt's counsel fought against the admission of the newspaper articles. Then the colonel was asked about campaign contributions from men affiliated with the American Powder company, the New Haven railroad, Harvester company, the Steel corporation and the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, and whether he, as president of the United States, had ordered the attorney general to investigate and bring action.

The Tennessee Coal and Iron company and competition by the Steel corporation was under discussion when John M. Bowers, chief counsel for Col. Roosevelt, said:

"Now, please stop with that. We will be all summer trying this case."

"We may," replied William Ivins, chief counsel for Mr. Barnes. "We did not start this game."

"Yes you did," declared Mr. Bowers heatedly.

"Yes you did," returned Mr. Ivins. "Col. Roosevelt made the first publication."

Then the court intervened.

been shipped from outside the state, because of alleged disputes with the concerns to which the goods were consigned. The indictments charge that associations have been formed for the purpose of boycotting goods, in certain lines, manufactured outside of Chicago. The labor leaders, it was alleged, had agreed not to permit their men to work on jobs where material manufactured outside of Chicago was being used and the contractors agreed, it was charged, to employ only workmen who were members of the union which belonged to the association. Officials of the Chicago Lighting and Fixture association and the Chicago Board Manufacturers' association were named in two indictments. Many electrical contractors also were included in the suit.

The investigation was started a year ago.

Simon O'Donnell said of the indictments:

"I am sure I know nothing about anything I have been charged with. I have been fighting for the good of the workmen of the city and have held out consistently for an agreement which explicitly sets out that there shall be no discrimination against goods made out of Chicago. Of course no one cares to have a federal indictment against him."

Similar expressions came from other labor leaders who were indicted and from contractors who are alleged to have conspired with the unions to keep goods made outside Chicago from being used on construction in this city.

ASKS COUNTY TO PAY FOR INFRINGEMENT

Edwin Thatcher Says Patent Reinforcement is Being Used.

W. K. Eldridge, an attorney at Indianapolis, has made a demand on the Allen county board of commissioners for $530, which he claims is due Edwin Thatcher, of New York, as royalty for the use of a type and style of steel reinforcement used in the construction of concrete bridges. The specific infringement alleged is in the Lima road bridge over Spy Run, built last year. Royalty of $500 and $30 interest make up the claim. The commissioners have used the style of reinforcement, which is a variety of lacing, in other bridges, and it is included in the plans for the Harrison street bridge. The commissioners say they cannot see any points of resemblance between the reinforcements used and the Thatcher system. The claims will not be allowed and the matter will be placed before the county council, which has been called to meet May 11, when some appropriations for the new county farm will be asked.

VISITS SON IN HOSPITAL.

Indianapolis Man Had Not Seen Him in Many Years.

Valparaiso, Ind., April 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Stevens, of Indianapolis, came here to see Clarence W. Stevens, Mr. Stevens' son, who was in a critical condition at the Christian hospital. The father had not seen his son for many years, and the son did not recognize him.

Stevens and his first wife were divorced. The mother took the baby boy, remarried and gave Clarence to her father to care for. Stevens sued for possession and lost. The grandfather remarried and put the boy in an orphan asylum. He was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Slocum, farmers, north of Wanatah, in Laporte county. The father was kept in ignorance about his son.

Clarence, who is fourteen years of age, was kicked by a horse while plowing. Mr. Slocum hurried him to the hospital here. The doctors say he will live.

The board of state charities then informed the father. Mr. Stevens is anxious to have the boy, and says he can give Clarence a good home now.

IN HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS.

Roswell Francis Field Shows Ability as a Writer of Verses.

Champaign, Ill., April 27.—A young man of twenty-odd years was in the lime-light last night when University of Illinois students produced an operetta, "A Maid and a Myth." One of the features of the production was the cleverness of the lyrics which the young man had written. He had followed in the footsteps of his father in turning clever verse, for he was Roswell Francis Field, son of Eugene Field, the Chicago poet, who died years ago.

Favorite songs from young Field's pen were "The Last Waltz," "Life on a Cattle Boat," "Little Bit o' Lady," "Paradise a la Carte" and "Some Day."

MONSTER PETITION GIVEN TO COUNCIL

Women Submit Names of 2,500 Who Want a Woman on School Board.

Promising to come again and bring as many more names, a comittee of women appeared at the regular session of the city council Tuesday evening and presented a petition bearing the signatures of 2,500 taxpayers and citizens who ask that the council elect a woman to membership on the Fort Wayne board of school trustees next June.

The petition, which was presented by Mrs. Clark Fairbank, Mrs. Andrew J. Moynihan, Mrs. S. F. Bowser and Mrs. A. J. Detzer, went to the council through President William A. Bayer, of that body. It is as follows:

"To the Common Council of Fort Wayne:—

'We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the school city of Fort Wayne, urge and petition your honorable body to elect a woman to membership upon the school board of the city of Fort Wayne, Indiana. We conscientiously believe that such recognition to the womanhood of Fort Wayne will have an effect distinctly beneficial to the school children and educational affairs."

The petition was received and made a matter of record without discussion. Additional signatures will be filed from time to time before the June session at which a successor to School Trustee Jesse Macbeth is to be elected. Councilman G. A. Rogge read to the council a letter addressed by the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette asking attention to the numerous communications received by that newspaper asking for a woman on the school board and printed copies of these communications accompanied the letter.

Park Salary List Passed.

The ordinance fixing the minimum and maximum salary list for certain officials and employes in the park department was passed, but not until after Councilman [illegible] ing the pay of the men who use "the pick and shovel."

A measure that was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances, embodies changes in the traffic regulations recommended by Chief of Police Charles Lenz. One of them requires traction cars and all vehicles to stop eight feet back of street crossing lines so that crossings shall not be blocked to pedestrians. Another requires pedestrians to use only the space reserved for crossings and will abolish the "cutting of corners." Street cars going in opposite directions cannot pass each other at street intersections. This is for the protection of traffic officers. Another traffic ordinance was introduced that is purposed to drive heavy traffic from Calhoun street, a vexed problem that has been worrying police and other officials as well as street railway management for some time. Trucks carrying more than 1,000 pounds cannot, under the ordinance, use Calhoun street save for unloading. The ordinance to prevent vehicles from standing near fire plugs was passed.

Other Measures in Council.

Other measures in council were: To give to producing vendors the preference in the letting of the spaces in the city market, fixing the third Monday of June for hucksters and others to procure their places; requiring bicyclists to light their lamps a half-hour after sunset and to not extinguish them when in use until a half hour after sunrise; requiring that before operations begin on streets ordered paved water service connections must be made; for the annexation of a strip 100 feet wide east of Calhoun street from Rudisill boulevard to McKinnie avenue, which tract is a part of Lafayette Place addition; appropriating $2,000 to the sewer repair account. These were referred to proper committees. The ordinance transferring Anthony boulevard from Maumee avenue to the Maumee river to park board con-

The council adopted a motion offered by Councilman Jacob Hartman asking Chief of Police Lenz to employ hereafter efforts to keep roller skaters off of the paved streets. Mr. Hartman said that unless this was done fatal accidents were inevitable because skaters were growing increasingly reckless.

The quarterly report of City Comptroller Reade was referred to the committee on finance to be audited.

Forest Park, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, had a narrow escape from arrest when he called at the city hall Wednesday morning to pay his respects to Mayor Hosey, Chief of Police Lenz and other officials. Chief Lenz held a long western Union night letter from the mayor of Forest Park describing Mr. Licht and ordering his arrest. After looking his man over, Chief Lenz accepted his personal recognizance. Chief Licht was married Tuesday in Chicago and came to Fort Wayne with his bride for a part of the honeymoon, wiring the mayor of Forest Park of the circumstances and his honor of the Illinois town thought to play a practical joke. Chief and Mrs. Licht are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Anglin, 1215 Webster street.

DAIRIES SHOWING WELL.

City Veterinarian Fry Is Completing His Inspection.

Dr. George Fry is completing his inspection of the dairies, both producers and distributers, that furnish milk for Fort Wayne and he reports that of the 260 he has inspected since the first of the month all but a few are showing up well. The territory he has covered embraces a wide area that extends in every direction from the city and the task of making the inspection is large. Dr. Fry says that he was refused permission but twice to make inspections, both dairies being in Allen county. One dairyman said he would not permit any but a state inspector to examine his herd and his dairy. Dr. Fry informed the dairyman that there would be inspection or his milk would cease to be handled in Fort Wayne. The man consulted an attorney, with whom he later went to City Attorney Colerick for a conference, and the result was that the dairy will be duly inspected. A similar course will be taken with the other objectors, who in this case happen to be women. Dr. Fry's next inspection trip will be of the dairies whose product is shipped in by the Fort Wayne & Springfield interurban line and will cover a good part of Adams county. He will have a conference with the management of the interurban line with a view to having the milk car brought into Fort Wayne several hours earlier than it is at present, it being now late in the forenoon when it arrives. The warm weather makes it necessary to get the milk in and dis-

Washington, April 27.—The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce announced today that its new directory of international, national, state, territorial and local commercial associations of the United States will soon be ready for distribution. The directory will contain detailed information as to the number of members, the annual income, date of annual meeting and the primary purpose of each organization, and, by the use of a number of well studied symbols, will show the principal activities of the leading association.

For local associations, it is pointed out, a "B" series of symbols has been adopted and information will be given on the subject of retail trade, wholesale trade, foreign trade, conventions, transportation, grain weighing and inspection, employment, agriculture, charity and social settlement work, affiliations and publications. For international, national and state organizations, information will be shown by a "C" series of symbols on the subject of co-operation, state legislation, arbitration, traffic bureau, foreign service, special relations and publications.

PRIVATE BANKER FAILS.

Carried Foreigners' Money Around in His Hip Pocket.

Hammond, Ind., April 27.—The recent failure of a "hip pocket" banker, Bartholomew R. Yasulis, an Indiana Harbor foreigner, has directed attention to the custom of most of the foreigners who work in the mills at Hammond, Gary and Indiana Harbor, of depositing their money with one of their countrymen rather than deposit it in a bank.

The method is for the depositor simply to give his money to the banker, who in return gives him a small memorandum. Some of these private banks, it is said, have contained many thousands of dollars at various times. The banker carries the money around in his pocket, disdaining to put it in a [illegible] Yasulis, who filed a [illegible] in bankruptcy, [illegible]

THE CUBS DROP OPENING GAME

Go Down to Touching Defeat in the Ninth Inning.

In as clean an exhibition of baseball as has been pulled off in Fort Wayne in many a day, Bade Myers home-owned Cubs in the opening game Tuesday went down to a heart-breaking defeat before Terre Haute with two men out in the ninth. The game was scoreless till the fifth, when the locals came across with a run, and got two more to the visitors' single in the seventh. In the eighth Terre Haute tallied up another, and with two men gone in the ninth and the crowd beginning to swarm out of the stands, came back with two more. The locals could not come back.

With Donley and Nehf opposing in the box, the first four innings were without a score. Both pitchers worked with good control in the opening quartet of innings, but it was in the fifth that the locals first began to get to the little Highlander. Holderman opened the local's half of the inning with a triple that bounded along the left field foul line nearly to the fence, and Beyers fanned. Hartle came across with a double that scored Holderman and gave the little outfielder a chance to show the local crowd that he could run. Hartle was caught trying to steal third and Tuman's double was wasted.

It was in the seventh the visitors scored their first run. Gilbert walked and Nehf sacrificed him to second and he reached third on an out, to cross the plate on Gray's double. Two passes by Donley filled the sacks and Vann flew out to Hartle.

Beyers, Hartle and Tuman singled in the seventh for Fort Wayne, Beyers crossing the plate on Tuman's single. Donley sacrificed and Hartle scored.

In the eighth the visitors pushed another run across when Marshall opened with a triple and Nehf singled.

It was the ninth that looked black to the locals. Donley had been loosening for two innings, although he did not give way entirely, and with Gray on first and two out it looked as though the game was over and the crowd began to climb out of the stands. Gray stole second. Vann doubled and Gray scored, causing the tie-up, Marshall lay down on a long one and Vann went across the plate with the winning tally.

Bade Myers went in to pinch-hit amid the plaudits of the multitude in the ninth, after Tuman singled, but the pennant-winning manager didn't have a chance to hit and Tuman chalked up the final out by being caught off the bag. It was a bit of bad judgment but the outfielder more than made up for it by a remarkable one-handed stab along the right field fence, in which he busted up a Highlander's three bag aspirations.

And by the way, Mayor Hosey and Secretary Charles Biederwolf, of the Commercial club put the first one across. Biederwolf was crouched and poised and ready, and His Honor wound up, squinted at the plate and threw the ball into the visitors' bench.

DRAGS WIFE BY HAIR OVER THE STREETS

Elmer Keck, Rural Terror, of Cedarville, Again in Trouble.

Elmer Keck, the terror of Cedarville and the countryside ten miles north of Fort Wayne, was arrested Tuesday night by Sheriff A. C. Gladieux and Deputy Herman Pranger, after Keck had staged a roaring drunk and had dragged his wife by the hair through the streets of the village. Clyde Rodabaugh, a paroled convict from Jeffersonville, who had been Keck's companion in creating the reign of terror, was arrested with him. They were brought to the city and booked in the city court Wednesday morning on drunk charges. Both cases were continued until Friday morning and the precious pair went to jail in default of $200 bond each. Keck is the "bad man" of Cedarville and is now under bond to the circuit court to keep the peace. He created a reign of terror in Cedarville something over a year ago and had his family living in hourly dread that he would take their lives. He was at that time arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ed Courdevey. Keck is cock of the walk in and around the village of Cedarville when he gets on one of his prolonged drunks and all in the region appear to be in fear of him. It is probable that more serious charges than public intoxication will be placed against him by the time his case is called Friday.

Unspeakable Beast Is Arrested.

Fred LeJoy, a vag with all the hallmarks of complete vagabondage, was booked in the city court Wednesday for vagrancy and continued until Thursday morning under $500 bond, while more serious charges are investigated and prepared. LaJoy, according to the testimony of trustworthy witnesses, is guilty of repeated crimes so unnatural and revolting they may not be even hinted at. He was arrested after having made repeated visits to a stable on the rear of Baker street premises.

Bertha Shipped From Town.

Bertha Evans, the crippled woman who was arrested with Eugene Cook and booked in the city court Tuesday morning on loitering charges, was before Judge Kerr again Wednesday morning, having been rearrested Tuesday afternoon by Officer Paul. She had promised Tuesday to leave town at once for Huntington, where she says her mother resides. She had not departed at 3 o'clock Tuesday and she was again pinched. Judge Kerr continued the case for a day Wednesday and told Police Matron Fanny Winch to get the woman aboard a car if possible and if not to take her to the poor house. Bertha decided she did not want to go to the county farm and was placed on an interurban car for Huntington. If she returns she will be sent to jail.

Repudiates the Charge.

Gottlieb Bieterman, so drunk he could not stand and so thick in the tongue his words issued all out of shape, bellowed "not guilty" when arraigned on a drunk charge. He was continued until Thursday to get sober and went to jail. He staggered in front of a Scherer bakery bread wagon at Wallace and Gay streets early Wednesday morning and was knocked down. The police patrol was called by some one who reported a serious accident. When the wagon reached the scene of the collision Gottlieb was nowhere in sight, but he was found soon afterwards at Horace and Gay streets, where he was trying to enter a saloon over the protest and resistance of the barkeep.

OTHER CITY COURT CASES.

Frank and Jim Smith were doing a brother act in the production of an artistic souse, but had done no harm and were turned loose.

J. R. Gross, of Mt. Etna, Huntington county, drove into Fort Wayne Tuesday with paper license tags on his automoblie. He was arrested by Traffic Officer Major and deposited $20 cash bond for his release and forfeited it Wednesday morning. He had his family with him on the trip.

The child neglect case against Francis Pommert was dismissed by Prosecutor Callahan.

MUST WAIT TWO YEARS.

Burned Building at Insane Hospital Not to Be Rebuilt at Once.

Indianapolis, April 28.—The ward building at the Northern Indiana hospital for the insane at Longcliffe, near Logansport, which was destroyed by fire last Thursday, will not be reconstructed until after money has been appropriated by the state legislature two years hence. This was decided at a meeting of state and institution officials last week. The institution fund from which the money ordinarily would be appropriated is exhausted.

The ward dining rooms at the institution are being converted into sleeping compartments, and will be used as soon as the new dining hall is completed. This improvement would have afforded room for eighty-seven additional patients had not the fire occurred. Some men will be accommodated, although the women's wards are already taxed to their capacity and no more women will be accepted at the institution. There are forty more patients at the hospital now than the capacity allows.

Dr. Terflinger hts obtained six army tents from P. A. Davis, quartermaster general of the Indiana national guard, and will use these to relieve conditions through the summer months. Each tent will accommodate six persons.

POPP WILL SETTLE DOWN.

Messenger Boy Who Traveled Conquers Wanderlust.

Reading, Pa., April 27.—Of all the telegraph messenger boys in America probably none ever passed through more trying experiences than young Joseph A. Popp, fourteen years old, now of this city. He has twice crossed and recrossed the continent, paying next to no fares, yet always stopping off in his car-bumper-coupler-truck and box car rides just often enough to earn the wherewithall to eat.

He arrived here a few days ago and succeeded in getting work with a local telegraph office.

"I'm through traveling and will settle down now," said Popp. "It's easy to become a millionaire if you stay in one place and watch for opportunities, and that's my game now."

One Was Driving Light Automobile When a Wheel Came Off.

Laporte, Ind., April 28.—Miss Ruth Welsh, age nineteen, has a fractured skull and can not live, and Miss Wilma Broadwith has a broken arm as the result of an automobile accident four miles west of Laporte. Accompanied by Norman Kassbaum and Raymond Gangwer, two young men, they were riding in a light touring car. According to reports, Miss Broadwith was driving and was going twenty-five or thirty miles an hour on a straight road, when one of the wheels either came off or collapsed, causing the car to turn a somersault several times before it landed in a ditch.

Other automobiles were on the scene in a few minutes, and the four persons were rushed to the hospital in this city The young men were only bruised and shaken up.

REMONSTRATORS WILL CONTINUE TO FIGHT

Opposition to New Washington Township School is Very Bitter.

That the remonstrators against the proposed new $25,000 school building in Washington township will continue their fight, notwithstanding the decision of Superintendent D. O. McComb, who sustained the action of Trustee Stolte, Tuesday, was the statement made Wednesday by a number of the leading opponents to the proposed school. An injunction suit to restrain the appropriation of the money with which to construct the new school building will probably be the next move.

In his decision the county superintendent among other things found: "That there is an indispensable necessity existing for a school created by the burning of the Scarlett school.

"That a four-room building will meet this emergency.

"That it is necessary that the township make preparations for an elementary vocational education.

"That this building should not cost to exceed $20,000."

Superintendent McComb referred in his decision to the fact that 111 children below the high school are being transferred from Washington township to Fort Wayne at an expenditure last term of $2,220. When the Scarlett school was destroyed by fire about 30 children were affected and that the Butler school, a short distance away, is subject to condemnation at any time.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

Over 100 people attended the reopening reception for the Railroad Y. M. C. A. at Unity hall last night and enjoyed the program Secretary A. J. Cash had prepared for them. It was a get-together affair, designed for bringing Y. M. C. A. people and smypathizers in closer touch with each other and it proved most successful. The interesting features of the program included two songs at the opening by the Y. M. C. A. quartet, composed of Messrs. Gaylord, Watterso, Traxler and Claudy; an address by Conductor R. B. Evans, of the G. R. & I.; vocal solo by Miss Blue; some readings by Miss Mildred Dailey and Miss Foster; a piano solo by Miss LaRue Watterson; a mandolin solo by Earl Paxton; an address by Secretary A. J. Cash; a song by the Y. M. C. A. quartet and a reding by Miss Gladys Eckenberry. Secretary Cash gave emphasis to the needs of a better and more extensive Y. M. C. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

National Gas Range Week

The Birthday of the

First Gas Range

FIFTY-ONE years ago the first gas range cooked its first meal.

It didn't look much like the wonderful new gas ranges of 1915. It was clumsy—imperfect—but even at that it quickly proved its superiority over other ways of cooking.

This week is being celebrated all over the country as a National Gas Range Week, in honor of this father of all gas ranges.
Won't you help us celebrate Gas Range Week by coming in to see our exhibit of new Gas Ranges?

Whether you are thinking of buying a new range or not, we want to show you the wonderful improvements that have been made in gas ranges in the last few years—changes that make it more than ever the ideal stove for home cooking.

It will only take a few minutes of your time, and we know you'll find it interesting.

On every range sold this week we will give free a self-lighter—pushing a button lights the burners—an ingenious and most valuable attachment for a gas range.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 28.—General selling today continued to send wheat prices down grade. The market, after opening ⅝c to 1⅞c off, steadied at about 1c under last night's level.

Lightness of offerings rallied the corn market from weakness that was due to sympathy with wheat. Opening prices, which varied from ⅛c to ½c decline, were followed by some net gains.

Shorts quickly absorbed offerings of oats.

Firmness in the price of hogs tended to harden provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 28.—The quarterly report of the steel corporation was favorably received by speculative interests judging by the course of the stock and the general market at today's opening. Steel made an initial gain of ⅝ of a point at the outset, soon increasing this to a point. Local tractions, motors and some of the other industrial specialties rose a point or more. Investment railway shares participated in more moderate degree while New York Central debenture sixes with a gain of 1⅝ made a new high record. American Tobacco, Central Leather and Pressed Steel Car were among the few issues to record declines.

Steel continued to hold its commanding position, increasing its gain to 1½ points on very heavy dealings. Representative railway issues, which showed early backwardness, later registered substantial advances, while in the general industrial and equipment groups gains of 2 to 5 points were numerous, Westinghouse being most conspicuous. Bonds were strong, New York Central debentures contributing fully 7½ per cent to the morning's business.

CUB MANAGEMENT VERY GRATEFUL

Expresses Its Appreciation of Opening Day Program.

A spirit of gratitude prevails around the headquarters of the Fort Wayne Central league base ball club for the remarkable demonstration by local citizens Tuesday afternoon in the parade. A string of 130 automobiles gaily decorated carried players over the streets and in the machines were city officials, officers of half a dozen lodges, of the Commercial and Rotary clubs, and of the Allen County Automobile Owners association. Features of the parade were Police Chief Charles Lenz's new suit with gold braid, the siren on Fire Chief Hilbrecht's machine, Van B. Perrine with a wagonload of police and the rampant enthusiasm all along the line of march.

The following message signed by President Kleitzke, was issued to the scores who assisted in making the day a success:

"To the members of fraternal societies of the City of Fort Wayne, and the officers and citizens of the City of Fort Wayne: "The management of the Fort Wayne Base Ball company hereby extends to you its grateful appreciation and thanks for the assistance and enthusiasm shown by the citizens of Fort Wayne, the officers thereof and the officers and members of the various lodges and societies in the city in making the opening day of the 1915 base ball season a tremendous success. Without your assistance we could not have hoped to have stirred up such favorable sentiment and enthusiasm to make that day a success, such as it was.

"We feel that your kindness has started the base ball season with such enthusiasm that the year will undoubtedly be a successful one, and for this anticipated success of the season and for your kindness in creating and stirring up this sentiment, the management assures you that throughout the season you will be given base ball, such as you have never seen in the City of Fort Wayne."

To the Rotary Club.

To the Rotary club for what it accomplished, the management sent the following note.

To the Members of the Rotary Club:

Gentlemen: We wish to express our appreciation of your valuable enthusiasm and assistance in boosting the opening game of our 1915 base ball season. It is a pleasure to know that the management of our Company has the heatry co-operation of an organization such as yours, and which has been, and we feel, will be in the future, of such valuable assistance to us.

FIRST STRAW HAT BURSTS INTO VIEW

"Straw—A stalk or stem of grain, as of wheat, rye, alfalfa, oats, barley or Indian corn; also a stalk of buckwheat, beans or peas."—Webster.

The first one has appeared in Fort Wayne. It might have been from either alfalfa or barley. At all events, it was last year's. It was on the head of the persistent individual who wears B. V. D.'s and dancing pumps in a January snow storm.

Although there is some dispute as to authorities the official Straw Hat Day for 1915 appears to be Saturday, May 15. On that day either straws or alfalfas and white trousers may be worn without violating the conventionalities of correct dressing. Some set the date for May 1, but there is a preponderance of authority against this date. In the large eastern cities June 1 represents the line of demarkation between the stuffy spring felts and alfalfas, according to local haberdashers.

May 15 is the date. Until then the headgear made of the stalk or stem of grain should be kept in the privacy of the boudoir.

WIDOW AND CHILD TO DEFEND RIGHTS

Fight Over $16,000,000 Estate at St. Louis is Unabated.

St. Louis, April 26.—When the trial to determine the validity of the will of James Campbell, traction magnate, which disposed of an estate valued at $16,000,000, was resumed in the circuit court here today, it was expected that Mrs. James M. Campbell, the widow, and Mrs. Lois Campbell Burkham, referred to in the will as Mr. Campbell's daughter, would take the witness stand to defend their right to the entire estate throughout their lives and until maturity of any heir Mrs. Burkham may leave.

St. Louis university, sole beneficiary of the estate, after the death of Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Burkham and the latter's heirs, also was represented in the court room.

The will is being contested by a sister and several nephews and nieces of Mr. Campbell. The contestants claim that Mrs. Burkham is not the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, but that her mother was a Mrs. Elizabeth Hicks, of Texas, who, according to the contestants' testimony, is now an English duchess.

It was evident that both sides would use pictures, the defense to show the resemblance between Mrs. Burkham and Mrs. Campbell and the contestants to show a likeness between Mrs. Burkham and the thus far unnamed English duchess, the former Mrs. Hicks.

GERMAN PRICE FOR TRUCE STIFF ONE

Insists on Allies Paying Cash for Evacuation of Belgium.

Washingtn, D. C., April 26.—"No truce till you agree to pay for the evacuation of Belgium."

This is the reply Germany gave to a recent proposal of a truce for peace discussions which Great Britain and France submitted in the conferences at Rome last week, according to information obtained today from the foreign diplomatic source.

It is asserted that there was an extended discussion of the German attitude by Prince von Buelow and the intermediaries in which the kaiser's ambassador was drawn into a statement of the price of the evacuation of Belgium which his government would be willing to consider. Prince von Buelow is quoted as having stated that there are several conditions of the evacuation of Belgium to which the allies must agree before Germany would be willing to assent to a truce for the further discussion of peace terms. These conditions in substance were:

Restoration to Germany of such of its colonies as have been seized by the allies.

Cession to Germany of the Belgian Congo or of equally desirable British or French territory in Africa.

Neutralization of the Belgian coast.

May Continue Negotiations.

According to the account derived from German sources the intermediaries who were endeavoring to bring about a truce for the purpose of peace parleying carried Prince von Buelow's conditions back to the British and French ambassadors and the action of the allies upon the terms has not been made known.

It is intimated that the negotiations for a truce may be resumed if the representatives of the allies in Rome are authorized by their governments, after consideration of the German conditions, to continue the discussion with Prince von Buelow.

British officials emphatically deny the truth of this account of what took place in Rome last week. They deny that the allies approached Prince von Buelow with any proposal of a truce and they deny with unusual fervor that Sir Edward Grey, the British foreign minister, was in Rome for any purpose.

MUST GO SOME TO BEAT FORT WAYNE

Dr. Lyon Urges Terre Haute to Keep Ahead of This City.

Terre Haute, Ind., April 26.—In his sermon here Saturday night, Dr. Milford H. Lyon declared he is not going to close the saloons of Terre Haute, but that the people of Terre Haute were going to close them. He urged the people of this city to keep ahead of Fort Wayne, but said that in order to do this they must "hustle."

The evangelist placed the blame for the downfall of many women on the dance hall and advocated a single standard of morality for son and daughter, man and wife.

Speaking of the opposition he said has been aroused by his meetings, he said there were many people in this city who were opposed to revival meetings for the reason that they feared that their rascality would be exposed before the meetings were over. He declared his meetings were opposed for the reason that "When Christian people get awake and start revivals the devil gets awake and starts revivals, too."

GERMAN WARSHIPS ON WAY TO HIT CANADA?

Portland, Ore., April 26.—Headed for the Atlantic coast of Canada is a German squadron bent on bombarding important cities and fortifications there according to a letter received today by Captain Carl Brauch, master of the German bark Dalbek, interned here since July 23, from a friend who is a deck officer of the German navy.

"Eight days before the German fleet bombarded Scarborough, Hartlepool and other ports, I received a letter from the same friend, telling me that the German fleet would strike for the British coast and I thought that statement was laughable," said Captain Brauch. "Since it came to pass, I am convinced that the move of the squadron to the Canadian coast may not be a myth."

PEACE DELEGATES MAROONED.

Noordam is Refused Permission to Proceed to Rotterdam.

London, April 26.—The steamer Noordam, with forty American women delegates to The Hague peace congress among its passengers, is anchored in the Downs, unable to obtain permission to proceed up the channel to Rotterdam. Jane Addams has sent an appeal to United States Ambassador Page urging him to enlist the aid of the American government to secure the release of the marooned delegates and enable them to arrive at The Hague in time for the conference, which opens Wednesday.

BOYS ATTACK MOVIE PICTURE SHOW HOUSE

Louisville, Ky., April 26.—A band of boys ranging in age from fourteen to twenty years created a reign of terror in the central section of the city last night when they made an attack upon attaches of a moving picture show.

Revolvers were brought into play and about a dozen shots were fired at their pursuers by the boys, who had been routed. The chase led for several blocks through the most crowded section of the city and there was a general rush for shelter when the shooting began. Leroy Nichols, 15, was shot through the knee with his own revolver during a struggle with an usher at the theater for its possession. Nichols and one other lad were arrested.

MEXICAN SOLDIERS WILL ALL BE BARRED

El Paso, April 26.—American military authorities along the entire Mexican border have received orders to prevent the entry into the United States of persons known to be soldiers of any Mexican faction it was learned here today.

It is said this order grew out of conditions caused by recent border fighting opposite Naco, Arizona, and Brownsville, Texas. Heretofore officers of the Carranza and Villa armies have been permitted without restraint to visit American border towns.

Several Mexicans held at the expense of the United States government are at variance with both of the Mexican factions controlling border and coast points. Their deportation, it is believed by officials would be equivalent to their death sentence.

570 GO DOWN WITH TORPEDOED FRENCH WARSHIP

AUSTRIANS SCORE ON FRENCH NAVAL FOES

Armored Cruiser Leon Gambetta Sent to Bottom Quickly--Mighty German Fleet in North Sea

Today's War News Given in Summary.

Unofficial announcement is made at Berlin that the French armored cruiser Leon Gambetta of 12,400 tons displacement, has been torpedoed by an Austrian submarine. The Berlin news agency which made the announcement, says that part of the crew of 700 men was saved.

A new German attack on a large scale has been inaugurated in Russian Poland, marking the resumption of active hostilities after a long lull The official Berlin statement of today says the Germans conquered Russian positions in the vicinity of Suwalki, near the East Prussian frontier, over a front of twelve miles.

There is a disparity between German and French accounts of what is happening in Flanders. The official Berlin reports says British efforts to recover the lost ground failed. The Paris announcement asserts that further progress was made in the Ypres district. It is said heavy losses were inflicted on the Germans and that more than 600 bodies of their dead were counted at one point.

The French announcement of yesterday that Hartmans-Weilerkopf, the long contested mountain height which the Germans recently captured, had been regained, is denied in Berlin. It is said this position is still held by the Germans and that the French have made no new attacks on it.

Paris, April 28.—(3 p. m.)—A communication from the ministry of marine reciting the torpedoing of the French cruiser Leon Gambetta by an Austrian submarine was given out this afternoon. It is as follows:

"The armored cruiser Leon Gambetta cruising at the entrance of the Otranto canal, was torpedoed on the night of April 26-27 and went to the bottom in ten minutes.

"All the officers on board perished at their posts. One hundred and thirty-six members of the crew, including eleven under-officers, were rescued by vessels sent out promptly to their help by the Italian authorities.

"The list of survivors has not yet been received at the ministry of marine."

RUN ASHORE, ANOTHER REPORT.

Torpedoed Cruiser May Float Away on Next High Tide.

Brindisi, Italy, April 27.—Via Paris April 28.—(2:50 p. m.—The French cruiser Leon Gambetta, torpedoed by an Austrian submarine, in the strait of Otranto, has been run ashore. Fears are now entertained that she will float away on the next high tide.

SIXTY-EIGHT VESSELS.

Big German Fleet Ready for Action in North Sea.

London, April 28.—(2:20 p. m.)—Captain Scott, commanding the Norwegian steamer chartered by the Belgian relief commission, reports the presence in the North sea of a German fleet numbering no less than 68 vessels all told.

Captain Scott, whose vessel had just come to port, reports that while crossing the north sea he was held up by one of these German vessels. After an examination of his papers he was permitted to proceed. The German fleet was composed of vessels of all classes, from battleships to torpedo boats.

The date of Captain Scott's encounter and just where in the North sea he sighted this German fleet has not been announced.

Again Breathes Easier.

England is breathing freely again today in the general belief that the German offensive near Ypres has been stopped, and the country is finding time to turn its attention to the Dardanelles, where an allied army has landed on both shores of the straits.

Paris reports that the French section landed on the Asiatic shore and is making steady progress despite the stubborn resistance of the Turkish defenders. These forces are entrenched and supported by artillery, and it is expected that they will prove a serious obstacle to an advance by land against the forts. The British section has successfully made a base on the shore of the European side of the straits. Turkey admits that these landings have been made, but at the same time she declares that the allies have been unable to make any progress toward the interior.

The latest French official announcement declares that the allies are making continued progress between Ypres and Dixmude, where the capture of prisoners, machine guns and war supplies is claimed. Following the reported failure of the German attack at Les Eparges, the French have apparently resumed the offensive in that region.

The most significant happenings in the diplomatic situation is the recall to Rome of the Italian ambassadors in London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna for a conference with the ministers of foreign affairs. The Austrian negotiations are said to have made progress in Rome and Austria is credited with making new concessions to Italy.

Italian observers are beginning to express the opinion that the points still unsettled between Italy and Austria do not make it impossible to reach an agreement.

TURKS REPULSE ALLIES.

French and British Statements Misleading, Says Berlin.

Berlin, April 28.—(By Wireless to Sayville, N. Y.)—Included in the news given out today by the Overseas News agency is the following:

"Turkish troops have repulsed four landing detachments of the allies on the Gallipoli peninsula. Mohammedan French troops landing with the French division deserted to the Turks.

"Yesterday's official French and British communications again furnished interesting proofs of the means whereby the public in the countries of our enemies is being misled," says the German official statement today.

"The French assert they have re-captured Hartmans-Weilerkopf, which we took away from them on the 25th of April. In reality no attacks were made at all since the unsuccessful attempts to re-capture the summit on the afternoon of April 26. Therefore the summit is still in our possession.

"The British report says that the French, advancing on the left wing of the British, have captured the village of Het-Sas in Flanders. In reality, neither was this village attacked yesterday. Furthermore the British report states that the German report regarding the capture of four British guns is not correct.

"It is a pity for the British army administration that it is so badly informed by its subordinates, although it is easily understood that the regular transmission of reports may be somewhat disorganized by the speed with which the British troops left the battlefield on the 25th. According to the inscription they bear, the captured guns belong to the Second London garrison artillery and Second London territorial division. They are the 12.8 centimer guns which will make their presence on our side clearly known to our opponents in the near future."

FORT WAYNE DEMOCRATS READY TO BOARD CARS FOR INDIANAPOLIS GATHERING WEDNESDAY MORNING.

SHRIEKS OUT A CONFESSION

"Stop! I Am Guilty!" Cries Accused Man in Brooklyn Court.

TRIAL HALTED BY DRAMATIC SCENE

White Snatches Fraternal Button from Coat Lapel as He Admits Guilt.

New York, April 28.—Philip L. White, the $6,000 a year manager of the Masury Paint company in Brooklyn, on trial as the leader of a band of highwaymen who held up his employers bank messengers and robbed them of $3,000 nearly a year ago, rose from his chair in the courtroom today, stretched both arms toward Supreme Court Justice Aspinall on the bench and exclaimed:

"Stop. I am guilty. I want to confess my guilt before God and the world!"

A courtroom scene seldom equalled in the annals of New York jurisprudence ensued.

White, trembling with emotion turned from the bench and faced the jury.

Tears Off Shrine Button.

"I am guilty," he repeated. "It is a bitter truth that is forced to my lips, but it is the Lord's will. I have lived two lives, a decent one and that of a highwayman. I hope that God will forgive me and that I may live long enough to make restitution."

He reached up to his coat lapel and fumbled with a gold button in the buttonhole, insignia of his membership in a fraternal order known all over the country.

"And I surrender by membership in the Mystic Shrine," he continued tearing the button loose. "I am no longer worthy to remain a Shriner."

Freely Confesses Details.

White continued his impassioned avowal. He freely confessed the details of the crime, but asked no clemency, made no statement as to the motive which impelled him.

When he sat down beside his longtime friend, James F. Clinnin, auditor for the Hackett & Wilhelms company in Brooklyn, who also was on trial on the same charge, Clinnin arose: "I wish to plead guilty too," he said and sat down.

The trial, which has been in progress in the supreme court in Brooklyn for several days, was at once halted. The jury was dismissed and the court accepted the two pleas of guilty. Sentence was postponed a week.

Devised the Scheme.

Clinnin and White were charged with having devised the scheme under which two messengers of the Masury company were robbed of $3,000 in the hallway of the building occupied by the firm.

The actual robbery was committed by two highwaymen, acting under White's orders. The four afterwards divided the money. White getting $900. This was testified to yesterday by Robert S. Roberts, the man who actually took the money from the messengers' hands.

White lived in a handsome residence at Elizabeth, N. J. When he was first arrested after months of investigating by detectives, his employers were astounded, refused to believe him guilty and assisted him to obtain bail.

Horace E. Smitley Sustains Serious Injuries When Horse Kicks Him.

Horace E. Smitley, a farmer living 12 miles west of the city near Aboite, sustained a fracture of the base of the skull and injuries to his neck Tuesday afternoon at the Sprinkle farm, when a horse kicked him in the head. He was picked up unconscious and taken into the house. An auto ambulance from Fort Wayne was called and he was rushed to the Lutheran hospital, where he was attended by Dr. Rosenthal and Dr. Titus.

Although his condition is regarded as serious, it is thought that he will recover as the attending doctors state that his chances are good unless something unforeseen arises. He was resting easily Wednesday.

Mr. Smitley, who is nearly 55 years of age, was working at his neighbor's farm Tuesday. While watering his own horse one of Mr. Sprinkle's horses kicked at the other animal, but struck Mr. Smitley on the side of the head. He was knocked down and in the excitement his own horse stepped on his neck. Friends who were standing near by saved him from further injuries.

General Smith-Dorrien said:

"No one can say definitely when the war will end. As you know, we are optimistic out here and rightfully so. I do not say the war will end in one month or two months, but I think I can promise you that there will not be another winter campaign."

PLATT RULED LEGISLATURE

That's Why Col. Roosevelt Says He Consulted the New York Boss.

CROSS-EXAMINATION IN LIBEL CASE ENDS

Becomes So Vehement Opposing Counsel Objects to Gesticulations.

Syracuse, N. Y., April 22.—Theodore Roosevelt today told as a witness in the $50,000 libel suit brought against him by William Barnes why, when governor of New York and president of the United States he conferred with former U. S. Senator Thomas C. Platt—"the boss."

While he was governor of New York, the colonel declared, he discussed things with Senator Platt because he had found out that the legislature obeyed his orders. The witness thought it best when there was any likelihood of the law-making body of the state disagreeing with him to first go to headquarters and talk things over.

Further as governor the colonel said he did not want to run any chance of disrupting the Republican party. As president of the United States the colonel readily admitted he conferred constantly with the senator from New York on all manner of things. He said he valued the senator's advice and wanted to take advantage of his wide experience.

These statements were made in reply to questions asked during the early part of his redirect examination, his cross-examination by counsel for William Barnes having been concluded today.

The colonel was most active on the witness stand. He slapped his hands upon his thighs and moved his arms and head to give emphasis to his words. He raised his voice and pounded upon the arm of the witness chair until counsel for Mr. Barnes entered an objection with the court against what they termed his "gesticulations."

Before court opened attorneys for both Col. Roosevelt and Mr. Barnes went to the chambers of Justice Andrews for a consultation. It was said that this had to do with the admission of certain evidence. Because of this conference the proceedings were a little late in starting.

When Justice Andrews ascended the bench he re-warned the jury against reading the newspapers. Mr. Ivins then asked the colonel whether he remembered making a speech at Hudson Falls in 1913.

"Where is Hudson Falls?" asked the colonel.

Mr. Ivins replied: "I have never been governor and consequently I have never been all over the state."

The speech at Hudson Falls was read. In it Col. Roosevelt was reported as saying that Mr. Barnes was a "menace to the state of New York," and that if he was a menace before election he was "a menace yet."

John M. Bowers, Col. Roosevelt's chief counsel, objected. Mr. Ivins explained to the court that the colonel's old speeches were not being introduced with an idea of compounding the alleged libel but with the idea of showing the colonel's state of mind. The objection was overruled.

In another speech Col. Roosevelt was quoted as saying, and he said he was incorrectly quoted that "Mr. B and M." should be in the same party. The speech was delivered in Saratoga. In it Col. Roosevelt was also quoted as saying that one controls New York and the other controls Albany.

Col. Roosevelt said the speech was substantially correct, but that part of the things he said had been left out and

(Fighting is Furious in Flanders, in the Carpathians and at the Dardanelles

London, April 28.—Military operations of critical importance are now under way simultaneously in three distinct fields of action.

In Flanders the Germans are once more engeged with the British, Belgians and French in a struggle for mastery of the territory near the Yser canal, where several months ago there occurred what was perhaps the most terrible struggle of the war so far.

In the Carpathians, the Russians are again assuming the offensive in another of their repeater efforts to push over the mountain barrier into Hungary.

At the Dardanelles the allies have succeeded in landing troops on both sides of the straits inaugurating the combined land and sea attempt at the conquest of Constantinople.

A British correspondent in northern France telegraphs that the German effort to turn the left British flank near Ypres has failed and that the Germans have been checked definitely, although the battle still continues with violence. French military authorities are cautious of accepting the theory that the plan of the Germans is to break through to the English channel, but they regard it as patent that such a huge concentration of troops on a limited front means that the present drive is preparatory of some more important undertaking.

An official Belgian statement indicates that the German attack is lessening in force. It is said the artillery fire against the Belgian front has largely died away.

Russian and Austrian official statements indicate that fighting in the Carpathians is becoming more intense. Each side claims to have defeated the attack of the other, but it is apparent that gradually the activity is spreading along greater sections of the battle line. Military observers at Petrograd say that more decisive operations than have occurred hitherto are expected shortly.

The situation at the Dardanelles remains obscure, although it is apparent that the French and British have made some headway with their landing operations. The Paris war office has announced the capture of Kum Kalen, on the Asiatic side. The Turkish government, although reporting the repulse of the landing forces in some cases, does not claim that in every instance the Turks have been able to drive them back.

Italy is still debating the question whether she shall intervene in the war. The Italian ambassador in France, one of those summoned home to consult with the government, has had a long conference with the king concerning international affairs.

DUVAL WEST NOW ON HIS WAY HOMEWARD

Wilson's Personal Representative to Report on Mexico.

Washington, April 28.—Duval West, personal representative of President Wilson in Mexico, was on his way today to the United States, according to advices to the state department. He left Mexico City yesterday for Vera Cruz aboard a special train provided by the Villa-Zapata leaders and Gen. Carranza. Mr. West will report to government officials here on the results of his conference with the rival leaders in Mexico. The appreciation of the United States government for the efficient manner in which Cardozo de Olivera, Brazilian minister at Mexico City, has for the past year looked after American diplomatic interests in Mexico has been conveyed in messages sent to him by President Wilson and Secretary Bryan. The minister took charge of the American embassy following the severance of relations between the United States and the Huerta government. Both the president and Secretary Bryan declared that although the period during which the minister has represented the United States has been a trying one, he had more than met every requirement.

BOY RECUES TWO.

Plunges in Water and Brings Out Brothers Who Could Not Swim.

Winchester, Ind., April 28.—Carl Bowen, age six, and James Bowen, age eight, sons of Charles Bowen, narrowly escaped drowning at the Parry pits, west of Lynn, Saturday. They were fishing, when Carl fell in. James plunged in after him, and both went under, as neither could swim. Gilbert Browne, age thirteen, dived in after them and brought both out, one at a time.

WORST IS NOW OVER.

Houston, Tex., April 28.—Central and south Texas flood conditions improved steadily last night and today, strengthening the belief that the worst is over, although all trans-state streams are out of banks at many points and damage is continuing. No rain, however, has fallen along the lower reaches of the rivers in more than 48 hours and the waters are receding slowly.

Earlham College Lads in Storm Center of an Investigation.

Richmond, Ind., April 28.—A sequel to the charges of lax discipline and favoritism shown athletes at Earlham college, made by Prof. Elbert Russell, following the act of the trustees recently in accepting his resignation, is the investigation now being made by the faculty of the Quaker institution of charges that certain men students have been making use of a tunnel connecting the men's and women's dormitories to spirit coeds into the campus after hours prescribed for the young women to receive callers.

"There is a tunnel connecting the two dormitories," Secretary Edgar Fisher said, "but I do not believe it has been made use of. If any young men have gained entrance to the girls' dormitory they must have used a skeleton key to open the kitchen door."

Four of the school's most prominent athletes, without whom base ball, foot ball and basket ball teams would be seriously handicapped, are involved. Their names have not been made public.

It was said that on the night of March 12 authorities caught these young men, all of whom are employed in the dining room at Earlham hall, having clandestine engagements with girls.

The conduit, which carries water heat pipes and electric wires from Bundy hall, the boys' dormitory to Earlham hall, is sufficiently large to admit a man, allowing him to walk through the passage. At Bundy hall it enters a part of the basement which is unoccupied. The entrance to the tunnel is close to a basement door opening on to campus at the rear of the building. At Earlham hall the passage has its opening near the kitchen.

Students and friends of the young men implicated say they had keys to the tunnel, which permitted them to pass from the boys' dormitory to the girls' building. It is also said that women students have recently passed through this tunnel, through the basement of Bundy hall to the campus at forbidden times.

Information obtained at the college indicates that persons who have charge of the girls' dormitory often were puzzled by the disappearance of coeds from their rooms and by subsequent inability to locate them in the building.

AVERAGE MINISTER'S SALARY A SMALL ONE

Chicago, April 28.—Ministers in the Congregational churches of the Northern states receive as an average a nannial salary of less than $800, Rev. Francis L. Hayes, western secretary of the annuity fund for congregational ministers, asserted today before the national convention of the board of conference claimant of the Methodist Episcopal church. The convention is being held in the interests of a $10,000,000 fund for retired ministers.

Rev. Mr. Hayes said that less than two per cent. of the congregational churches pay ministers an annual salary of $3,000 and upwards; more than half not over $1,000, and one quarter not more than $500.

"The underlying reason why every member of the Grand Army of the Republic receives a pension with the general approval of the people is the nation's sense of obligation. It is time that the church's sense of obligation should rise to the same level," the speaker said.

MEMORY BACK AFTER TWO YEARS' LAPSE

Kenosha, Wis., April 28.—For two years Frank Van Wie, 27 years old, wandered around the country "without a memory."

Last night a physician snapped back into place two small vertebrae in the back of his neck. In an hour his past history, with the exception of the two years' lapse, came back to him.

He remembered that on May 7, 1913, he fell from a roof of a building at 1071 Twelfth street, Milwaukee, and "hurt his head." What had happened in his life since that time became a blank.

"I remember that when I was hurt the doctors said I had broken a rib or two," Van Wie said. "My head hurt and then I seemed to go to sleep. I can't believe that two years have passed."

Van Wie had been in Kenosha since last Friday. He declared he was seeking to discover his identity and went by the name of "John Kennedy." He went to Milwaukee last night and said he intended seeking the girl to whom he was to have been married.

Laughs Way from Convent to Stage

RUTH DONNELLY.

When Ruth Donnelly was a mere slip of a dimple-cheeked girl, back in Sacred Heart convent in New Jersey, she couldn't make her smile behave. In the midst of the most solemn service she would startle the quiet black garbed sisters with a peal of silvery laughter, and despite the resultant punishment, she would repeat the offense again and again. Finally the good sisters gave her up as a bad job and returned her to her uncle, Mayor Donnelly, of Trenton, N. J.

Little Ruth continued to laugh her way merrily through the world, while her elders shook their heads and wondered what they would eventually do with her.

Miss Rose Stahl, the star of "A Perfect Lady," solved the problem. After a year in the chorus to gather assurance, Miss Stahl placed the eighteen-year-old girl with her in "Maggie Pepper," and after two years graduated her as the finished product. This season Miss Donnelly is a full-fledged actress in "Under Cover," a play now on the road.

Charleston, W. Va., April 28.—State authorities today renewed their vigilance in enforcing the West Virginia prohibition laws following the discovery and confiscation of the contents of a car supposed to have been loaded with furniture, but in reality containing intoxicating liquors, here yesterday.

A piano box, trunks, boxes and barrels, from which protruded bits of bed clothing, were found by the authorities to be filled with bottles of liquor. Gene Drennen, a local restaurant keeper, at whose home a wagon load of liquor was alleged to have been found, and Mrs. Maud Hull and Mrs. Mac Duncan, relatives of Drennen, were arrested and held under bond. The car, it was said, was sent here from Cincinnati.

The prohibition officers also confiscated a consignment of hardware which was found to be whisky.

NEW YORK MUST TONE DOWN THE CABARETS

New York, April 28.—Elaborate cabarets given in many of the most expensive restaurants here music be modified under a new ruling of the commissioner of licenses. His decision was given on a complaint by theatrical managers who objected to paying $500 for a license while the restaurant men giving cabarets paid only $50.

The commissioner summoned to his office yesterday proprietors of twenty of the leading restaurants and informed them that shows with scenery would be permitted in buildings only designated especially for theatrical performances. The restaurant proprietors replied that they had been forced by competition to give costly cabarets and hinted they would welcome an enforcement of the law that would compel a return to simpler and less expensive entertainments.

HAS MYSTERIOUS LETTER.

Five Dollars Belongs to Some Woman Who Can Prove Fact.

Columbus, Ind., April 27.—Irvin A. Cox, postmaster of this city, has a mysterious letter signed "Unknown," and mailed in Indianapolis, which contained $5 to be given to some woman who can prove that it belongs to her. The letter says a Columbus woman lost her purse about Christmas, 1912, and the inference is that the writer found it. The writer wants the $5 given to the woman who lost the purse.

Instead of throwing her kitchen refuse into a dustbin the poor Constantinople housewife puts it into a sort of kennel outside her door for the wandering dogs of the city.

TEETH EXTRACTED: NOW NEAR DEATH

Chicago, April 28.—Charles F. Grant, 35 years old and cashier at the Highland Park State bank, is in a serious condition at the Augustana hospital as the result of loss of blood after the extraction of twelve teeth Monday.

The bleeding kept Mr. Grant awake all of Monday night and the family physician summoned yesterday was unable to stop the loss of blood. Fearing that his patient might bleed to death, the physician, Dr. Lloyd M. Bergen, sent Mr. Grant to the hospital in Chicago.

Dr. N. M. Percy took the case in hand and at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon—twenty-four hours after it began—succeeded in stopping the loss of blood.

"This is the result of a phenomenon known to medical science as haemophilia—a rather rare case," said Dr. Percy. "We find these 'bleeders' as we call them, about one in 10,000 cases."

Boston, April 28.—The belief that expansion rather than contraction of American trade should be sought by manufacturers was expressed by Albert Green Duncan, of this city, president of the National Association of Cotton Manufacturers, in an address prepared for delivery at the annual convention of the organization today. He said that cotton manufacturers "were harder hit than almost any other industry" in this country by conditions arising from the European war.

BUT ONE CABLE NOW HOLDS.

Work of Raising F-4 Nearly All Undone by Rough Weather.

Honolulu, April 28.—The work which has been carried on for several weeks in an attempt to raise the submarine F-4 from the bottom of the ocean, has practically all been undone by the rough weather of the last two days. Only one cable is left holding to the hulk, it was learned today.

The scows used in the raising operations have been anchored to prevent them from drifting out to sea.

On account of weather conditions diving operations are impossible.

Don't kill yourself with Drugs!

This is the story that women folks as well as men folks are telling each other. "TU-BO-LAX" is especially beneficial and desirable for the gentler sex. Their delicate organism is such that cathartics and strong purgatives cause irritation, bearing down pains and general debility. TU-BO-LAX seems to invigorate all the vital organs. It cleanses the lower bowel thoroughly and pleasantly. It seems to invite all the undigested food in the stomach down through the intestines without any discomfort. By its beneficial effect—the lazy liver is awakened to new activity, so that biliousness, Jaunders and sallow complexions are no longer a terror to women who use TU-BO-LAX.

Probably more than 1,000 homes in Philadelphia today have discarded purgatives of all sorts and depend upon TU-BO-LAX. They have discovered that taking medicine in the mouth to pass down through the stomach and intestines to remove a little obstruction in the lower bowel is as antiquated as the "Tallow dip."

TU-BO-LAX is a laxative ointment that dissolves the hardened substances in 2 MINUTES and gives a thorough evacuation of the lower bowel. By removing the refuse and poison from the system, the blood becomes enriched—digestion is stimulated, the liver is made active—and the whole body becomes—stronger.

Remember, you can carry TU-BO-LAX around in your pocket, and can get the relief desired at any time.

Your druggist can furnish you the TU-BO-LAX, or we will send you a package by mail upon receipt of 25 cents.

Large size (contains 5 times amount of 25 cent size) 50 cents.

Five-Year-Old Iola Gossard Crushed to Death by Stone That Fell From Church Foundation.

Bluffton, Ind., April 28.—A tragic fate befel Iola, 5-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mert Gossard, of Tocsin, early last evening, when she was crushed to death by a heavy stone that fell upon her from the foundation of the United Brethren church, now building there. With a companion named Earl Plummer, the Gossard child was playing on a pile of lumber near the wall. She lost her balance and to save herself from falling grasped at the foundation of te building. In doing so she dislodged a huge block of stone weighing about 500 pounds that had been freshly placed and had not become firmly set in the mortar, and fell under the boulder. The labor of several men was necessary for a quarter of an hour to remove the heavy stone from the crushed body of the child, whose death had been almost instantaneous. Her neck was broken and her chest was badly crushed.

The young man was unable to furnish this sum and he was taken to the county jail. According to the indictment Isbell is charged with felonious assault on Nina Van Lear, age 16, who is now his wife. The assault is alleged to have been committed before they were married, January 1, 1915. Isbell is also charged with having deserted his wife following their marriage and with refusing to provide any money for her support. The mother was almost prostrated at her son's arrest.

CATTLE DIE MYSTERIOUSLY.

Van Wert, O., April 28.—Chemical analysis will be resorted to determine what caused the death of three valuable blooded cattle belonging to Charles Reason, of this city. Reason keeps his cattle on a lot adjoining his home. He found three of them very sick when he went to care for them in the morning and called a veterinary surgeon. The animals died soon afterwards. Veterinarians gave it as their opinion that the cattle had died of spoiled forage, but an examination of one of them showed little food in the stomach and it now is believed that all of them were poisoned. One of them was a full-blooded Jersey cow, another a full-blooded Holstein and the other was a blooded Jersey bull.

MENTONE HOME DAMAGED.

Warsaw, Ind., April 28.—The home of George Ralston, at Mentone, was almost destroyed Tuesday by fire, discovered to be burning in the upper story. At the time Mrs. Ralston was alone at her home and while engaged in her household duties, her attention was attracted by the smell of smoke. The fire is believed to have been started from a spark from the chimney, some time early in the morning, and burned slowly until fanned by a strong west wind, burst into flames. The loss will probably total $1,000, with insurance to cover it.

GOT RAW DEAL IN PAVEMENT.

Huntington, Ind., April 28.—After about two years of ceaseless agitation the city and the Westrumite Paving company of Whiting, Ind., separated last night when the residents of Matilda street agreed to release the company's contract and await the speedy crumbling of the pavement before starting a new street. This action followed an advance made by the Westrumite people that if they were released from the contract they would not expect any pay for the work they have done here. According to the Westrumite representative his company has lost $13,000 in the Matilda street pavement.

SELLS HOG WEIGHING 875 POUNDS.

La Grange, Ind., April 28.—B. J. Norris, of Clay township, delivered to Walter & Latta at the La Grange G. R. & L. stockyards one hog that tipped the scales at 875 pounds. He was the sire of other fine sales that have been made from the Norris stock farm. Eighteen months ago Mr. Norris sold eight hogs, ten months old, that averaged 410 pounds each and last winter twelve nine months pigs that averaged 350 each. Thus it will be seen that the porker sold Saturday coupled with Mr. Norris' well measured feed rations and care has been responsible for at least 8,355 pounds of "live pork" turned over to the local buyers.

TOPEKA MERCHANT IS DEAD.

La Grange, Ind., April 28.—John J. Yoder, Topeka's pioneer hardware dealer, who suffered a stroke of paralysis over six weeks ago, died Monday evening and was buried today. Kendallville, Ind., April 28.—Robbers who broke into the Noble County Canning company's plant at Lisbon, three miles south of here, stripped the machinery of brass and copper fixtures valued at $100. The stolen property was found concealed near the Specialty Case company's plant, in this city, and it had been broken into junk for readier sale. George and Raymond Hoffman, who claim to be uncle and nephew, and who say they had walked from Fort Wayne to Kendallville, en route to their home in Kalamazoo, were arrested in a box car in the railway yards here. They denied all knowledge of the robbery. They are being held.

ROOM ONLY FOR ATHLETIC STARS.

Columbia City, Ind., April 28.—It has been agreed by the representatives of the various high schools of the county that at the county meet in this city next Saturday, only one man from each school will be eligible to participate in each event. This will give the schools having a star or two the advantage over the schools who might have men good enough to win second and third places. There is widespread interest in the meet and a record-breaking crowd may be counted on for Saturday. It will undoubtedly draw one of the largest crowds to the city that has been seen here this spring, and everybody is hoping for fair waether and a nice day.

FOUR HORSES PERISH IN FIRE.

Monroeville, Ind., April 28.—Children playing with matches are believed to have been the origin of a fire that destroyed a large barn, a corn crib and tool shed, four head of horses, ten tons of hay, 125 bushels of corn and many farming impliments on the farm of Fred House, residing a mile north of Monroeville, Tuesday afternoon. Neighbors who quickly responded to the alarm were able by hard work to save the residence of Mr. House. The loss is estimated at $2,500, with partial insurance.

Every Man Read This

This treatment is said to have acquired a wonderful reputation throughout the East, owing to its peculiar propensity to fortify the nerve force and generate health and a consequent personal magnetism, so essential to the happiness of every normal human being. It is claimed to be a blessing to those who are physically impaired, gloomy, despondent, nervous or who have trembling of the limbs, dizziness, heart palpitation, cold hands and feet, insomnia, fear without cause, timidity in venturing and general inability to act rationally as others do. Also of vast benefit to writers, professional men, office workers and the victims of society's late hours and over-indulgence in wines, liquors, etc.

By obtaining the treatment at some well stocked pharmacy, no one need know of another's trouble while the treatment has been widely prescribed and dispensed heretofore by physicians and pharmacists, the grain tablets are so prepared with full directions for self administration that it is wholly unnecessary to pay a physician for prescribing them. Just ask for three-grain Cadomene tablets, begin their use and soon all the joy of a healthy body, sound nerves and strength will be felt.

"Buy the Goods— Not the Package"

Advises Hon. Geo. W. Perkins, Chairman of New York's Food Committee.

And it's good advice! Select the food that contains the greatest nutrition for the least money, whether in ornately colored package or in a plain carton.

The Grape-Nuts package isn't pretty—no money is wasted upon ornament—but it's air-tight and germ-proof, to protect the food and keep it in perfect condition.

made of selected wheat and malted barley, is delicious, concentrated, easily digested, and contains, pound for pound, more nutrition than beef—and costs less.

Grape-Nuts food has a delicious, nut-like flavour that is relished by old and young. It contains no sugar added, but its delicate sweetness is due to natural conversion of the starch of the grain into grape sugar by long, skilful baking.

It comes all ready to eat with cream or good milk and it's mighty good!

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Proverb 15:1-16.

1 A soft answer turneth away wrath: but grievous words stir up anger.
2 The tongue of the wise useth knowledge aright: but the mouth of fools poureth out foolishness.
3 The eyes of the Lord are in every place, beholding the evil and the good.
4 A wholesome tongue is a tree of life: but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit.
5 A fool despiseth his father's instruction: but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.
6 In the house of the righteous is much treasure: but in the revenues of the wicked is trouble.
7 The lips of the wise disperse knowledge: but the heart of the foolish doeth not so.
8 The sacrifice of the wicked is an abomination to the Lord: but the prayer of the upright is his delight.
9 The way of the wicked is an abomination unto the Lord: but he loveth him that followeth after righteousness.
10 Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way: and he that hateth reproof shall die.
11 Hell and destruction are before the Lord: how much more then the hearts of the children of men?
12 A scorner loveth not one that reproveth him: neither will he go unto the wise.
13 A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance: but by sorrow of the heart the spirit is broken.
14 The heart of him that hath understanding seeketh knowledge: but the mouth of fools feedeth on foolishness.
15 All the days of the afflicted are evil: but he that is of a merry heart hath a continual feast.
16 Better is little with the fear of the Lord than great treasure and trouble therewith.

Within a few days the semi-annual time limit for the payment of taxes without the penalty that attaches to overdue accounts of this character will have expired. The final week is bringing its customary rush to the office of County Treasurer Bueter, and again, as always the average tax-payer makes his surrender with none too good grace and with complaint but ill concealed. Taxes have long ago come to be considered a necessary evil. One pays them grudgingly, half under an impression that he receives no returns and that the assessment is an unfair tribute levied upon citizenship.

This view is, of course, wholly erroneous and unjustified, and is given utterance without an analysis of the situation. There are manifest returns from tax-paying in law and order, in protection, in the maintenance of social existence, in the enjoymet of improved streets and highways, and as a matter of fact it is difficult to see how the man who manages to escape tax payments altogether is able to keep his conscience in an attitude at all complacent. Good citizenship requires a share in the common burdens as well as the enjoyment of benefits that are the fruit of common co-operation. Taxes have never been popular, and, perhaps, never will become so until we have reduced both the levying and the expenditure of public monies to a more exact and equitable science.

The tax problem is one which is engaging the thoughtful attention of many men today, both in Indiana and elsewhere. It has been made the subject of some rather notable recent conferences in the hope of arriving at a fairer basis of assessment and a more equitable sharing of the burdens. Some progress is undoubtedly being made in the study and there is the promise of reform finally that will not only provide a fairer distribution of the load but a greater return for public expenditures. We think there is plainly evident today an improvement in the latter direction. Public expenditures are, as a rule, now made more wisely, more economically and they bring greater returns than ever before. It is not to be contended that all waste has been eliminated or that perfection has been reached, but distinct progress has been made. Continued effort along this line will do much toward making the tax burdens seem lighter because of the realization in increased returns from the money we pay into the public treasury. Perhaps, indeed, some future generation will come to see the day when tax-paying will be regarded not as an onerous duty, but a civic privilege.

The proposed ordinance designed to relieve Calhoun street traffic congestion by prohibiting the traversing of the main thoroughfare by heavy trucks, is one which should be cheerfully accepted and fully complied with. Provision is made for the necessity of unloading, in which case the street may be entered at the nearest cross-street or alley. Under all other cases another street can quite as well be used by the heavy, slow-moving vehicles. It will not only expedite the movement of the trucks, but lessen the danger to accident and remove much of the congestion that is at times trying to the public, both afoot and awheel. Paved parallel streets but a square distant on either side have removed the former necessity for the use of Calhoun street as a thoroughfare for the heavy trucks.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon, at 79 years old, has redeemed his promise to dance in the New York building at the San Francisco fair, though as a condescension to a bruised knee he substituted a waltz for the Virginia reel originally nominated in the bond. We presume his performance will have to be accepted in full settlement, but a glimpse of the venerable Illinois statesman doing the fox trot would have been worth a whole lot more money from the spectacular point of view.

New Haven boys have organized to systematically clean the rubbish, glass, nails and other debris from the streets of that pretty little town and declare they will continue the work steadily through the summer season. A lively crowd of energetic youngsters, intelligently directed, should be able to give almost any municipality a valuable demonstration in the practical civics of cleanliness and attractiveness. The New Haven idea has all the carmarks of a splendid thing.

Leading American railroads, including the Pennsylvania, with its $28,000,000 order, are preparing to expend at least $50,000,000 in equipment and road betterments during the next few months. Preparations for an outgo of fifty millions indicate that the railroads are fully sharing the confidence of other lines of business that the turning point has arrived and that we are now really on the upgrade.

Some of those premature presidential booms launched a few weeks ago for divers and sundry eminent republicans are already developing pronounced symptoms of pernicious anaemia.

A SIGN OF SPRING YOU'VE MISSED.

The sun is shining on the front porch. The music of children's voices carries far through the clear air. It must be spring.

In the street little girls are jumping the rope, playing with rubber ball and jacks.

A tiny tot appears on the porch lugging the things dearest to her heart—her doll, its carriage, her dishes, her little chairs.

"Yoo-hoo—Lucy, ast your mamma tin you tum over. We'll play house."

It is spring!

There's no more unmistakable sign of winter's flight than the "make-believe" parties the little women are giving wherever the sun has warmed a porch corner—though on some back stairs or fire escape you're likely to find the happiest "party" of all, with some shabby little "mother" and her bedraggled little doll-family "making-believe" she's a "grand lady," grown up and "keeping house."

They'll tell you—those droll little women with their quaint, wise airs, their long skirts and turned up pigtails, this game of "let's pretend we are grown up and keeping house" is the "mostest fun" of all their games.

And unless your heart is very old, indeed, you'll agree with the little sisters of "let's pretend" that making believe you're grown up is much more fun than being really grown up, when making believe about things is one of the penalties life inflicts on you; when pretending is a hateful business and no longer a childish game.

THE DISHONEST EMPLOYE.

(Indianapolis News.)

Times without number the newspapers contain stories of the clerk-embezzler. In the latest instance, the employe concerned was not a clerk, but an $18-a-week salesman employed by a large wholesale grocery house in New York city. It is alleged that this salesman, co-operating with restaurant proprietors, defrauded his employers out of supplies to the value of $350,000. The accused man, according to the police, maintained a handsome residence and took a leading part in the social affairs of his home city.

There is a growing inclination on the part of employers to place their employes under closer scrutiny. With the employment of manual labor, this surveillance has most often taken the form of disapproval of drunkenness. It is comparatively easy for a large corporation, employing hundreds of workmen, to let workmen understand that temperate habits are for the benefit of all concerned. Some companies have gone so far as to prohibit their men from visiting saloons, at least, during the working hours. Others merely let the men know of the official disapproval of the saloon. In the matter of promotion and of salary increases, the temperate men are the ones favored. This practice is viewed by some people as an unwarranted intrusion on "personal liberty." But there is reason in it.

When the employer, however, attempts to deal with men in clerical or professional capacities he has a much more difficult problem. A banker may hesitate to pry into the habits of a teller, yet it has often been demonstrated that had such surveillance been undertaken peculations might have been averted. The wholesale grocery firm which is believed to have been robbed of $350,000 worth of goods, possibly never thought to acquaint itself with the salesman's manner of living. When a $15 or $20-a-week clerk cuts a fine swath in society, owns a motor car, maintains an establishment and mingles conspicuously in society, it is reasonable to suppose that he must have other resources than his salary. If social surveillance is "unethical," business surveillance is entirely possible. A lax system of auditing possibly got this New York firm into trouble.

(Dayton News.)

"The band shall play while coaling ship," says an order recently issued by the United States navy. The music has nothing to do with the coal, and it would seem to be an unusual time to have music—when the dirtiest, most toilsome work is being done. But that is the order. And it was issued for a purpose.

It has been found that the men are more cheerful when there is music in the air—and the more cheerful the man the better he can work, and the more willingly. So while the men are performing this miserable work they will hear the strains of the music, and to a certain extent forget the weariness of the task.

We are all familiar with the effect of music in battle. When men were led into charges, when they met the enemy face to face and fought it out in hand-to-hand fashion, music was deemed essential. But music isn't playing much part in the present struggle, for obvious reasons. It wouldn't add anything to the inspiration of the scene, now that men are fighting from trenches and hurling death at unseen enemies. But it is still of use in the navy.

Taking the hint from the recent order in the navy, a writer in the Manufacturers' Record advocates music in factories. He does not claim that the band should play all the time, while the men are working at all tasks, but he does believe that if there were more music about the factories of this country it would be all the better—that the men would be kept in better humor, and therefore in better form for the tasks at hand.

UPHOLDS BAREFOOT BOY.

Indianapolis School Board Reproves Blow at His Rights.

Indianapolis, Ind., April 28.—The board of school commissioners at a meeting last night championed the cause of the barefoot boy when letters were read in which requests were made that the board establish a rule compelling all children to wear shoes and stockings to school. Every member of the board denounced the suggestion. One of the commissioners said that to enforce such a rule would be "to place the small boy in torment" and would deprive the school boy of "one of the inherent rights of childhood."

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is mussy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.—Adv.

How Thin People Can Get Fat

A Physician's Advice

"I'd certainly give most anything to be able to fat up a few pounds and stay that way," declares every excessively thin man or woman. Such a result is not impossible, despite past failures. Thin people are victims of mal-nutrition, a condition which prevents the fatty elements of food from being taken up by the blood as they are when the powers of nutrition are normal. Instead of getting into the blood, all the fat and flesh producing elements stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste.

To correct this condition and to produce a healthy, normal amount of fat the nutritive processes must be artificially supplied with the power which nature has denied them. This can best be accomplished by eating a Sargol tablet with every meal. Sargol is a scientific combination of six of the best strength-giving, fat-producing elements known to the medical profession. Taken with meals, it mixes with the food and turns the sugars and starches into rich, ripe nourishment for the tissues and blood and its rapid effect is remarkable. Reported gains of from ten to twenty-five pounds in a single month are by no means infrequent. Yet its action is perfectly natural and absolutely harmless. Sargol is sold by Meyer Bros. Co., Dreier Drug Co., D. & N. Pharmacy and other good druggists everywhere and every package contains a guarantee of weight increase or money back.

Caution:—While Sargol has produced remarkable results in the treatment of nervous indigestion and general stomach disorders, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh producing effect, be used by those who are not willing to increase their weight ten pounds or more.

WATKINS' REPORT TAKEN UP FIRST

Army Board Busy at Work on Survey for Proposed Barge Canal.

Members of the board of army engineers will first review the report of Captain L. H. Watkins on the survey for the proposed Toledo, Fort Wayne and Chicago barge canal, before taking up the commercial report prepared by Major P. S. Bond.

The deliberations of the board, which is composed of Colonel John Millis, Colonel W. V. Judson and Major P. S. Bond, are behind closed doors and the greatest precautions are being taken to prevent any information concerning the work from leaking out. Wednesday was devoted, however, to the reading of Captain Watkins' report, consisting of several typewritten pages, together with a number of maps and charts. The sessions of the board are being held in the army engineer's office on the third floor of the Federal building.

Perry A. Randall, president of the Erie and Michigan Deep Waterway association, and Charles S. Bash, one of the enthusiastic boosters, have arranged a meeting with the board late Wednesday afternoon. Messrs. Randall and Bash will present facts and figures to the board showing why the canal should be built. It is probable that other delegations will be received by the board.

Next in importance to the action of the board in accepting or rejecting the reports is the route to be selected out of Fort Wayne to Chicago. Two routes have been surveyed, southern and northern, both of which are said to be feasible.

AT THE NEW PALACE

A GINGERY BILL.

New Palace's Farewell Keith Program a Lively One.

Action, go, snap and ginger predominate in the farewell Keith vaudeville bill of the 1914-1915 season at the New Palace theater this week. There isn't a slow poky act in the lot and every one of them keeps one fairly on the tiptoe of expectancy all the time. Morris Cronin's Merry Men in their deft juggling surprise keep one shunting from uproarious laughter to gasping marvel at the dexterity with which the heavy Indian clubs are whirled from one set of jugglers to another. This act does not recall any other attraction that ever appeared in Fort Wayne because it isn't like anything else under the sun. The story of "His Wife's Mother" in which Emmet Devoy and Miss Mabel Durand and supporting company are appearing in a riot of fun, with Mr. Devoy as the bachelor friend of a young couple endeavoring to calm out a marital storm by convincing the young groom that his mother-in-law is altogether the most charming woman in the world. With the enthusiastic "hi yi" of the old time minstrels as the basis for their offering, Coakley, Hanvey and Dunley, a trio of black face fun makers, evoke a whirlwind of applause and laughter at their bright sallies and amusing stories. In a kaleidoscopic satire called "Evolution-186-to-1920," Florence Kolb and Adelaide Harland present a series of dances and some bright chatter. Especially good is their broad travesty on the modern militant suffragette and her hen pecked lesser half.

AT THE MAJESTIC.

"Potash and Perlmutter" Coming Back Saturday.

"Potash and Perlmutter, the most famous cloak and suit laugh makers in the world, have their quarters in the Cohan theatre, New York city, after two remarkable seasons and are making a tour of the country to display their goods to millions of patrons who could not get to New York to see them. They will appear at the Majestic on Saturday matinee and night.

A. H. Woods, who put the boys into business, is sending along with them not only all their original designs but in fact their entire staff, including designers, models, cutters, pressers, salesmen, lawyer and even their friends and family. Their tour so far has been a triumphant one for Abe and Morris are known everywhere by reputation as fine fellows, as lovable as they are laughable—keen business men, but with hearts of gold.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

BLANCHE SWEET IN "TE CAPTIE."

Blanche Sweet in "The Captive" a photo dramatization of the play of the same name, written by Cecil De Mille and Jeanie McPherson, is a love drama of unusual quality, the incidents of which all take place during the recent war between Turkey and Montenego. It is the story of an averson that turns into love, the narrative of a romance that begins with hate, seeming to justify the assertion that anything is better that indifference.

The two principal characters in "The Cpative" are a Montenegran peasant girl and a Turkish noble, who is made a prisoner of war and assigned to do work on her farm and who in the end saves from the drunken onslaughts of his own countrymen.

The great actor-author, Edwin Arden, will appear at the Jefferson tomorrow in a superb picturization of his own play, 'Eagles Nest."

AT THE MINUET.

A GREAT BIBLICAL DRAMA.

"Esther," Which Plays at the Minuet Today, Founded Upon Story Taken From Old Testament.

The Biblical drama has been rather neglected by the motion picture producers lately, and the market has been so surfeited with society dramas, 'problem" plays and others of the ilk and kind that the production of a drama like "Esther" is indeed a welcome occurence. The locale of the play is laid in ancient Biblical times, as a period when King Asheurus ruled all the territory extending from India to Ethiopia. Amis, the rich, luxurious settings of the king's court is set the plot of this enthralling drama, which tells of the deliverance of the Jewish race from oppression in the countries of King Asheurus. The love interest in the play is an unusaul one, and well sustained throughout.

AT THE COLONIAL

Thomas Jefferson Starring at Colonial.

Several elements tend toward the success of this brilliant screen production, "The Shadows of a Great City." The first is the remarkable acting of Thomas Jefferson in the principal role of the play, and the second is the tremendous strength and powerful appeal of the story itself.

Mr. Thomas Jefferson, who stars in "The Shadows of a Great City," is acknowledged to be one of the foremost most actors of the American stages, and this—his initial advent into the photo-dramatic field, has aroused unprecedented interest among playgoers all over the country.

Anna Howard Shaw, the renowned champion of woman suffrage in America, appears at the Colonial on the morrow in the marvelous suffrage play, "Your Girl and Mine."

BETRAYED EMOTION

"That heiress seemed much agitated when she met you. Is it possible that you have entered her life before in some romantic way?"

"Nothing particularly romantic," said the newcomer at the summer resort. "I collect the payments on that heiress' piano."—Seattle Post Intelligencer.

PLATT RULED LEGISLATURE

part had been shortened and incorrectly reported.

Just What He Said.

"I never said Mr. B. and Mr. M.," said the colonel. "I said Mr. Barnes and Mr. Murphy."

"Col. Roosevelt you have testified to many conferences with Senator Platt and suggestions received from him."

"Yes," said Col. Roosevelt. "I found his wide knowledge of much value to me. I consulted Mr. Platt on all important matters that came up through my entire administration. My purpose was partly to take advantage of his experience and partly to see if I could not come to an agreement with him as head of the republican party so as to prevent a break with the organization. I did not want to disrupt the republican party. I knew I could get good affirmative and right things done in Albany if I didn't break with the party. I knew I could prevent wrong.

"As for the nomination," the colonel went on, "I saw Senator Platt after I had been informed he had decided to have me nominated for governor."

Mr. Bowers then read the letter in which Senator Platt wrote, "I have heard you were little loose in regard to the relations between capital and labor," and that "your candidacy has become a practical certainty."

"I believe," said Col. Roosevelt, "Mr. Platt's statement in that letter was correct."

"Before you were elected did you make any promises to or about any business?"

"I certainly did not."

Not an Easy Boss.

In one of the telegrams read yesterday, when Senator Platt insisted that Col. Roosevelt, then governor, attend the meeting of a commission, the colonel, after protesting, agreed to do so, and added: "But you are not an easy boss."

Hostilities broke out between the opposing lawyers several times. On each occasion Justice William Andrews, presiding, smoothed them down. Col. Roosevelt's counsel fought against the admission of the newspaper articles. Then the colonel was asked about campaign contributions from men affiliated with the American Powder company, the New Haven railroad, Harvester company, the Steel corporation and the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, and whether he, as president of the United States, had ordered the attorney general to investigate and bring action.

The Tennessee Coal and Iron company and competition by the Steel corporation was under discussion when John M. Bowers, chief counsel for Col. Roosevelt, said:

"Now, please stop with that. We will be all summer trying this case."

"We may," replied William Ivins, chief counsel for Mr. Barnes. "We did not start this game."

"Yes you did," declared Mr. Bowers heatedly.

"Yes you did," returned Mr. Ivins. "Col. Roosevelt made the first publication."

Then the court intervened.

been shipped from outside the state, because of alleged disputes with the concerns to which the goods were consigned. The indictments charge that associations have been formed for the purpose of boycotting goods, in certain lines, manufactured outside of Chicago. The labor leaders, it was alleged, had agreed not to permit their men to work on jobs where material manufactured outside of Chicago was being used and the contractors agreed, it was charged, to employ only workmen who were members of the union which belonged to the association. Officials of the Chicago Lighting and Fixture association and the Chicago Board Manufacturers' association were named in two indictments. Many electrical contractors also were included in the suit.

The investigation was started a year ago.

Simon O'Donnell said of the indictments:

"I am sure I know nothing about anything I have been charged with. I have been fighting for the good of the workmen of the city and have held out consistently for an agreement which explicitly sets out that there shall be no discrimination against goods made out of Chicago. Of course no one cares to have a federal indictment against him."

Similar expressions came from other labor leaders who were indicted and from contractors who are alleged to have conspired with the unions to keep goods made outside Chicago from being used on construction in this city.

ASKS COUNTY TO PAY FOR INFRINGEMENT

Edwin Thatcher Says Patent Reinforcement is Being Used.

W. K. Eldridge, an attorney at Indianapolis, has made a demand on the Allen county board of commissioners for $530, which he claims is due Edwin Thatcher, of New York, as royalty for the use of a type and style of steel reinforcement used in the construction of concrete bridges. The specific infringement alleged is in the Lima road bridge over Spy Run, built last year. Royalty of $500 and $30 interest make up the claim. The commissioners have used the style of reinforcement, which is a variety of lacing, in other bridges, and it is included in the plans for the Harrison street bridge. The commissioners say they cannot see any points of resemblance between the reinforcements used and the Thatcher system. The claims will not be allowed and the matter will be placed before the county council, which has been called to meet May 11, when some appropriations for the new county farm will be asked.

VISITS SON IN HOSPITAL.

Indianapolis Man Had Not Seen Him in Many Years.

Valparaiso, Ind., April 27.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Stevens, of Indianapolis, came here to see Clarence W. Stevens, Mr. Stevens' son, who was in a critical condition at the Christian hospital. The father had not seen his son for many years, and the son did not recognize him.

Stevens and his first wife were divorced. The mother took the baby boy, remarried and gave Clarence to her father to care for. Stevens sued for possession and lost. The grandfather remarried and put the boy in an orphan asylum. He was adopted by Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Slocum, farmers, north of Wanatah, in Laporte county. The father was kept in ignorance about his son.

Clarence, who is fourteen years of age, was kicked by a horse while plowing. Mr. Slocum hurried him to the hospital here. The doctors say he will live.

The board of state charities then informed the father. Mr. Stevens is anxious to have the boy, and says he can give Clarence a good home now.

IN HIS FATHER'S FOOTSTEPS.

Roswell Francis Field Shows Ability as a Writer of Verses.

Champaign, Ill., April 27.—A young man of twenty-odd years was in the lime-light last night when University of Illinois students produced an operetta, "A Maid and a Myth." One of the features of the production was the cleverness of the lyrics which the young man had written. He had followed in the footsteps of his father in turning clever verse, for he was Roswell Francis Field, son of Eugene Field, the Chicago poet, who died years ago.

Favorite songs from young Field's pen were "The Last Waltz," "Life on a Cattle Boat," "Little Bit o' Lady," "Paradise a la Carte" and "Some Day."

MONSTER PETITION GIVEN TO COUNCIL

Women Submit Names of 2,500 Who Want a Woman on School Board.

Promising to come again and bring as many more names, a comittee of women appeared at the regular session of the city council Tuesday evening and presented a petition bearing the signatures of 2,500 taxpayers and citizens who ask that the council elect a woman to membership on the Fort Wayne board of school trustees next June.

The petition, which was presented by Mrs. Clark Fairbank, Mrs. Andrew J. Moynihan, Mrs. S. F. Bowser and Mrs. A. J. Detzer, went to the council through President William A. Bayer, of that body. It is as follows:

"To the Common Council of Fort Wayne:—

"We, the undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the school city of Fort Wayne, urge and petition your honorable body to elect a woman to membership upon the school board of the city of Fort Wayne, Indiana. We conscientiously believe that such recognition to the womanhood of Fort Wayne will have an effect distinctly beneficial to the school children and educational affairs."

The petition was received and made a matter of record without discussion. Additional signatures will be filed from time to time before the June session at which a successor to School Trustee Jesse Macbeth is to be elected. Councilman G. A. Rogge read to the council a letter addressed by the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette asking attention to the numerous communications received by that newspaper asking for a woman on the school board and printed copies of these communications accompanied the letter.

Park Salary List Passed.

The ordinance fixing the minimum and maximum salary list for certain officials and employes in the park department was passed, but not until after Councilman Korte, of the Tenth ward, served notice that if the council was going to keep on raising salaries, he designed to bring in an ordinance boosting the pay of the men who use "the pick and shovel."

A measure that was referred to the committee on rules, regulations and ordinances, embodies changes in the traffic regulations recommended by Chief of Police Charles Lenz. One of them requires traction cars and all vehicles to stop eight feet back of street crossing lines so that crossings shall not be blocked to pedestrians. Another requires pedestrians to use only the space reserved for crossings and will abolish the "cutting of corners." Street cars going in opposite directions cannot pass each other at street intersections. This is for the protection of traffic officers. Another traffic ordinance was introduced that is purposed to drive heavy traffic from Calhoun street, a vexed problem that has been worrying police and other officials as well as street railway management for some time. Trucks carrying more than 1,000 pounds cannot, under the ordinance, use Calhoun street save for unloading. The ordinance to prevent vehicles from standing near fire plugs was passed.

Other Measures in Council.

Other measures in council were: To give to producing vendors the preference in the letting of the spaces in the city market, fixing the third Monday of June for hucksters and others to procure their places; requiring bicyclists to light their lamps a half-hour after sunset and to not extinguish them when in use until a half hour after sunrise; requiring that before operations begin on streets ordered paved water service connections must be made; for the annexation of a strip 100 feet wide east of Calhoun street from Rudisill boulevard to McKinnie avenue, which tract is a part of Lafayette Place addition; appropriating $2,000 to the sewer repair account. These were referred to proper committees. The ordinance transferring Anthony boulevard from Maumee avenue to the Maumee river to park board control.

The council adopted a motion offered by Councilman Jacob Hartman asking Chief of Police Lenz to employ hereafter efforts to keep roller skaters off of the paved streets. Mr. Hartman said that unless this was done fatal accidents were inevitable because skaters were growing increasingly reckless.

The quarterly report of City Comptroller Baade was referred to the committee on finance to be audited.

NARROWLY ESCAPED ARREST.

Chief of Police Fred W. Licht, of Forest Park, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, had a narrow escape from arrest when he called at the city hall Wednesday morning to pay his respects to Mayor Hosey, Chief of Police Lenz and other officials. Chief Lenz held a long western Union night letter from the mayor of Forest Park describing Mr. Licht and ordering his arrest. After looking his man over, Chief Lenz accepted his personal recognizance. Chief Licht was married Tuesday in Chicago and came to Fort Wayne with his bride for a part of the honeymoon, wiring the mayor of Forest Park of the circumstances and his honor of the Illinois town thought to play a practical joke. Chief and Mrs. Licht are guests of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Anglin, 1215 Webster street.

DAIRIES SHOWING WELL.

City Veterinarian Fry Is Completing His Inspection.

Dr. George Fry is completing his inspection of the dairies, both producers and distributers, that furnish milk for Fort Wayne and he reports that of the 260 he has inspected since the first of the month all but a few are showing up well. The territory he has covered embraces a wide area that extends in every direction from the city and the task of making the inspection is large. Dr. Fry says that he was refused permission but twice to make inspections, both dairies being in Allen county. One dairyman said he would not permit any but a state inspector to examine his herd and his dairy. Dr. Fry informed the dairyman that there would be inspection or his milk would cease to be handled in Fort Wayne. The man consulted an attorney, with whom he later went to City Attorney Colerick for a conference, and the result was that the dairy will be duly inspected. A similar course will be taken with the other objectors, who in this case happen to be women. Dr. Fry's next inspection trip will be of the dairies whose product is shipped in by the Fort Wayne & Springfield interurban line and will cover a good part of Adams county. He will have a conference with the management of the interurban line with a view to having the milk car brought into Fort Wayne several hours earlier than it is at present, it being now late in the forenoon when it arrives. The warm weather makes it necessary to get the milk in and distributed before the heat of the day comes on.

NEW COMMERCIAL DIRECTORY.

Bureau of Commerce Announces Book About Ready for Distribution.

Washington, April 27.—The bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce announced today that its new directory of international, national, state, territorial and local commercial associations of the United States will soon be ready for distribution. The directory will contain detailed information as to the number of members, the annual income, date of annual meeting and the primary purpose of each organization, and, by the use of a number of well studied symbols, will show the principal activities of the leading association.

For local associations, it is pointed out, a "B" series of symbols has been adopted and information will be given on the subject of retail trade, wholesale trade, foreign trade, conventions, transportation, grain weighing and inspection, employment, agriculture, charity and social settlement work, affiliations and publications. For international, national and state organizations, information will be shown by a "C" series of symbols on the subject of co-operation, state legislation, arbitration, traffic bureau, foreign service, special relations and publications.

PRIVATE BANKER FAILS.

Carried Foreigners' Money Around in His Hip Pocket.

Hammond, Ind., April 27.—The recent failure of a "hip pocket" banker, Bartholomew R. Yasulis, an Indiana Harbor foreigner, has directed attention to the custom of most of the foreigners who work in the mills at Hammond, Gary and Indiana Harbor, of depositing their money with one of their countrymen rather than deposit it in a bank.

The method is for the depositor simply to give his money to the banker, who in return gives him a small memorandum. Some of these private banks, it is said, have contained many thousands of dollars at various times. The banker carries the money around in his pocket, disdaining to put it in a bank. Yasulis, who filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy, scheduled liabilities at $16,248.

It is said that a probe of some of the other "hip pocket" bankers will be started as a result of the failure of Yasulis.

THE SENTINEL'S LIVE SPORTS CRISP RELIABLE

THE CUBS DROP OPENING GAME

Go Down to Touching Defeat in the Ninth Inning.

In as clean an exhibition of baseball as has been pulled off in Fort Wayne in many a day, Bade Myers home-owned Cubs in the opening game Tuesday went down to a heart-breaking defeat before Terre Haute with two men out in the ninth. The game was scoreless till the fifth, when the locals came across with a run, and got two more to the visitors' single in the seventh. In the eighth Terre Haute tallied up another, and with two men gone in the ninth and the crowd beginning to swarm out of the stands, came back with two more. The locals could not come back.

With Donley and Nehf opposing in the box, the first four innings were without a score. Both pitchers worked with good control in the opening quartet of innings, but it was in the fifth that the locals first began to get to the little Highlander. Holderman opened the local's half of the inning with a triple that bounded along the left field foul line nearly to the fence, and Beyers fanned. Hartle came across with a double that scored Holderman and gave the little outfielder a chance to show the local crowd that he could run. Hartle was caught trying to steal third and Tuman's double was wasted.

It was in the seventh the visitors scored their first run. Gilbert walked and Nehf sacrificed him to second and he reached third on an out, to cross the plate on Gray's double. Two passes by Donley filled the sacks and Vann flew out to Hartle.

Beyers, Hartle and Tuman singled in the seventh for Fort Wayne, Beyers crossing the plate on Tuman's single. Donley sacrificed and Hartle scored.

In the eighth the visitors pushed another run across when Marshall opened with a triple and Nehf singled.

It was the ninth that looked black to the locals. Donley had been loosening for two innings, although he did not give way entirely, and with Gray on first and two out it looked as though the game was over and the crowd began to climb out of the stands. Gray stole second, Vann doubled and Gray scored, causing the tie-up, Marshall lay down on a long one and Vann went across the plate with the winning tally.

Bade Myers went in to pinch-hit amid the plaudits of the multitude in the ninth, after Tuman singled, but the pennant-winning manager didn't have a chance to hit and Tuman chalked up the final out by being caught off the bag. It was a bit of bad judgment but the outfielder more than made up for it by a remarkable one-handed stab along the right field fence, in which he busted up a Highlander's three bag aspirations.

And by the way, Mayor Hosey and Secretary Charles Biederwolf, of the Commercial club put the first one across. Biederwolf was crouched and poised and ready, and His Honor wound up, squinted at the plate and threw the ball into the visitors' bench.

Elmer Keck, Rural Terror, of Cedarville, Again in Trouble.

Elmer Keck, the terror of Cedarville and the countryside ten miles north of Fort Wayne, was arrested Tuesday night by Sheriff A. C. Gladieux and Deputy Herman Pranger, after Keck had staged a roaring drunk and had dragged his wife by the hair through the streets of the village. Clyde Rodabaugh, a paroled convict from Jeffersonville, who had been Keck's companion in creating the reign of terror, was arrested with him. They were brought to the city and booked in the city court Wednesday morning on drunk charges. Both cases were continued until Friday morning and the precious pair went to jail in default of $200 bond each. Keck is the "bad man" of Cedarville and is now under bond to the circuit court to keep the peace. He created a reign of terror in Cedarville something over a year ago and had his family living in hourly dread that he would take their lives. He was at that time arrested by Deputy Sheriff Ed Courdevey. Keck is cock of the walk in and around the village of Cedarville when he gets on one of his prolonged drunks and all in the region appear to be in fear of him. It is probable that more serious charges than public intoxication will be placed against him by the time his case is called Friday.

Unspeakable Beast Is Arrested.

Fred LeJoy, a rag with all the hallmarks of complete vagabondage, was booked in the city court Wednesday for vagrancy and continued until Thursday morning under $500 bond, while more serious charges are investigated and prepared. LaJoy, according to the testimony of trustworthy witnesses, is guilty of repeated crimes so unnatural and revolting they may not be even hinted at. He was arrested after having made repeated visits to a stable on the rear of Baker street premises.

Bertha Shipped From Town.

Bertha Evans, the crippled woman who was arrested with Eugene Cook and booked in the city court Tuesday morning on loitering charges, was before Judge Kerr again Wednesday morning, having been rearrested Tuesday afternoon by Officer Paul. She had promised Tuesday to leave town at once for Huntington, where she says her mother resides. She had not departed at 3 o'clock Tuesday and she was again pinched. Judge Kerr continued the case for a day Wednesday and told Police Matron Fanny Winch to get the woman aboard a car if possible and if not to take her to the poor house. Bertha decided she did not want to go to the county farm and was placed on an interurban car for Huntington. If she returns she will be sent to jail.

Repudiates the Charge.

Gottlieb Bieterman, so drunk he could not stand and so thick in the tongue his words issued all out of shape, bellowed "not guilty" when arraigned on a drunk charge. He was continued until Thursday to get sober and went to jail. He staggered in front of a Scherer bakery bread wagon at Wallace and Gay streets early Wednesday morning and was knocked down. The police patrol was called by some one who reported a serious accident. When the wagon reached the scene of the collision Gottlieb was nowhere in sight, but he was found soon afterwards at Horace and Gay streets, where he was trying to enter a saloon over the protest and resistance of the barkeep.

OTHER CITY COURT CASES.

Frank and Jim Smith were doing a brother act in the production of an artistic souse, but had done no harm and were turned loose.

J. R. Gross, of Mt. Etna, Huntington county, drove into Fort Wayne Tuesday with paper license tags on his automobile. He was arrested by Traffic Officer Major and deposited $20 cash bond for his release and forfeited it Wednesday morning. He had his family with him on the trip.

The child neglect case against Francis Pommert was dismissed by Prosecutor Callahan.

MUST WAIT TWO YEARS.

Burned Building at Insane Hospital Not to Be Rebuilt at Once.

Indianapolis, April 28.—The ward building at the Northern Indiana hospital for the insane at Longcliffe, near Logansport, which was destroyed by fire last Thursday, will not be reconstructed until after money has been appropriated by the state legislature two years hence. This was decided at a meeting of state and institution officials last week. The institution fund from which the money ordinarily would be appropriated is exhausted.

The ward dining rooms at the institution are being converted into sleeping compartments, and will be used as soon as the new dining hall is completed. This improvement would have afforded room for eighty-seven additional patients had not the fire occurred. Some men will be accommodated, although the women's wards are already taxed to their capacity and no more women will be accepted at the institution. There are forty more patients at the hospital now than the capacity allows.

Dr. Terflinger hts obtained six army tents from P. A. Davis, quartermaster general of the Indiana national guard, and will use these to relieve conditions through the summer months. Each tent will accommodate six persons.

Citizens Ask Brown County Sheriff to Give Protection.

Nashville, Ind., April 27.—Citizens of Helmsburg, a town of about 100 families, in Brown county, are aroused at the treatment they are receiving at the hands of a crowd of men known as the "gang," and have asked the sheriff and other officers at Nashville for protection.

Several business men have complained that their windows have been broken and that rocks have been thrown at them.

John Setser, merchant and postmaster, was notified that his life was in danger and his place of business was liable to be destroyed any night.

Another business man found a bunch of switches at his door. He also received a letter threatening him if certain things happened. The name of a prominent citizen was signed to the letter. This man has offered $500 for the identity of the writer.

A handcar was placed on the track in front of an approaching freight train and torn to pieces. The train was delayed thirty minutes. Railroad detectives and the prosecuting attorney are investigating.

POPP WILL SETTLE DOWN.

Messenger Boy Who Traveled Conquers Wanderlust.

Reading, Pa., April 27.—Of all the telegraph messenger boys in America probably none ever passed through more trying experiences than young Joseph A. Popp, fourteen years old, now of this city. He has twice crossed and recrossed the continent, paying next to no fares, yet always stopping off in his car-bumper-coupler-truck and box car rides just often enough to earn the wherewithall to eat.

He arrived here a few days ago and succeeded in getting work with a local telegraph office.

"I'm through traveling and will settle down now," said Popp. "It's easy to become a millionaire if you stay in one place and watch for opportunities, and that's my game now."

Opposition to New Washington Township School is Very Bitter.

That the remonstrators against the proposed new $25,000 school building in Washington township will continue their fight, notwithstanding the decision of Superintendent D. O. McComb, who sustained the action of Trustee Stolte, Tuesday, was the statement made Wednesday by a number of the leading opponents to the proposed school. An injunction suit to restrain the appropriation of the money with which to construct the new school building will probably be the next move.

In his decision the county superintendent among other things found: "That there is an indispensable necessity existing for a school created by the burning of the Scarlett school.

"That a four-room building will meet this emergency.

"That it is necessary that the township make preparations for an elementary vocational education.

"That this building should not cost to exceed $20,000."

Superintendent McComb referred in his decision to the fact that 111 children below the high school are being transferred from Washington township to Fort Wayne at an expenditure last term of $2,220. When the Scarlett school was destroyed by fire about 30 children were affected and that the Butler school, a short distance away, is subject to condemnation at any time.

HAD A GOOD TIME.

Cash; a song by the Y. M. C. A. quartet and a reding by Miss Gladys Eckenberry. Secretary Cash gave emphasis to the needs of a better and more extensive Y. M. C. National Gas Range Week

The Birthday of the

First Gas Range

FIFTY-ONE years ago the first gas range cooked its first meal.

It didn't look much like the wonderful new gas ranges of 1915. It was clumsy—imperfect—but even at that it quickly proved its superiority over other ways of cooking.

This week is being celebrated all over the country as a National Gas Range Week, in honor of this father of all gas ranges.

Won't you help us celebrate Gas Range Week by coming in to see our exhibit of new Gas Ranges?

Whether you are thinking of buying a new range or not, we want to show you the wonderful improvements that have been made in gas ranges in the last few years—changes that make it more than ever the ideal stove for home cooking.

It will only take a few minutes of your time, and we know you'll find it interesting.

On every range sold this week we will give free a self-lighter—pushing a button lights the burners—an ingenious and most valuable attachment for a gas range.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, April 28.—General selling today continued to send wheat prices down grade. The market, after opening ⅝c to 1⅞c off, steadied at about 1c under last night's level.

Lightness of offerings rallied the corn market from weakness that was due to sympathy with wheat. Opening prices, which varied from ¼c to ½c decline, were followed by some net gains.

Shorts quickly absorbed offerings of oats.

Firmness in the price of hogs tended to harden provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, April 28.—The quarterly report of the steel corporation was favorably received by speculative interests judging by the course of the stock and the general market at today's opening. Steel made an initial gain of ⅝ of a point at the outset, soon increasing this to a point. Local tractions, motors and some of the other industrial specialties rose a point or more. Investment railway shares participated in more moderate degree while New York Central debenture sixes with a gain of 1⅝ made a new high record. American Tobacco, Central Leather and Pressed Steel Car were among the few issues to record declines.

Steel continued to hold its commanding position, increasing its gain to 1½ points on very heavy dealings. Representative railway issues, which showed early backwardness, later registered substantial advances, while in the general industrial and equipment groups gains of 2 to 5 points were numerous, Westinghouse being most conspicuous. Bonds were strong, New York Central debentures contributing fully 75 per cent to the morning's large operations.

CUB MANAGEMENT VERY GRATEFUL

Expresses Its Appreciation of Opening Day Program.

A spirit of gratitude prevails around the headquarters of the Fort Wayne Central league base ball club for the remarkable demonstration by local citizens Tuesday afternoon in the parade. A string of 130 automobiles gaily decorated carried players over the streets and in the machines were city officials, officers of half a dozen lodges, of the Commercial and Rotary clubs, and of the Allen County Automobile Owners association. Features of the parade were Police Chief Charles Lenz's new suit with gold braid, the siren on Fire Chief Hilbrecht's machine, Van B. Perrine with a wagonload of police and the rampant enthusiasm all along the line of march.

The following message signed by President Kleitzke, was issued to the scores who assisted in making the day a success:

"To the members of fraternal societies of the City of Fort Wayne, and the officers and citizens of the City of Fort Wayne: "The management of the Fort Wayne Base Ball company hereby extends to you its grateful appreciation and thanks for the assistance and enthusiasm shown by the citizens of Fort Wayne, the officers thereof and the officers and members of the various lodges and societies in the city in making the opening day of the 1915 base ball season a tremendous success. Without your assistance we could not have hoped to have stirred up such favorable sentiment and enthusiasm to make that day a success, such as it was.

"We feel that your kindness has started the base ball season with such enthusiasm that the year will undoubtedly be a successful one, and for this anticipated success of the season and for your kindness in creating and stirring up this sentiment, the management assures you that throughout the season you will be given base ball, such as you have never seen in the City of Fort Wayne."

To the Rotary Club.

To the Rotary club for what it accomplished, the management sent the following note.

Gentlemen: We wish to express our appreciation of your valuable enthusiasm and assistance in boosting the opening game of our 1915 base ball season. It is a pleasure to know that the management of our Company has the hearty co-operation of an organization such as yours, and which has been, and we feel, will be in the future, of such valuable assistance to us.

FIRST STRAW HAT BURSTS INTO VIEW

"Straw—A stalk or stem of grain, as of wheat, rye, alfalfa, oats, barley or Indian corn: also a stalk of buckwheat, beans or peas."—Webster.

The first one has appeared in Fort Wayne. It might have been from either alfalfa or barley. At all events, it was last year's. It was on the head of the persistent individual who wears B. V. D.'s and dancing pumps in a January snow storm.

Although there is some dispute as to authorities the official Straw Hat Day for 1915 appears to be Saturday, May 15. On that day either straws or alfalfas and white trousers may be worn without violating the conventionalities of correct dressing. Some set the date for May 1, but there is a preponderance of authority against this date. In the large eastern cities June 1 represents the line of demarkation between the stuffy spring felts and alfalfas, according to local haberdashers.

May 15 is the date. Until then the headgear made of the stalk or stem of grain should be kept in the privacy of the boudoir.
